HOPE ABANDONED FOR ALL NOT PICKED UP BY "CARPATHIA"

ST. JOHNS, Newfoundland, April 16.—All hope that any of the passengers or any members of the crew of the Titanic other than those on the Carpathia are alive was abandoned here this afternoon. All of the steamers which have been cruising in the vicinity of the disaster have continued on their voyage.

(Believed to be Spencer V. Silverthorne.)

MONTREAL, April 16.—A wireless message received here says that Charles M. Hays, president of the Grand Trunk Railway, is among the survivors aboard the Carpathia. His wife and daughter already had been reported saved.

Piers Davidson, brother of Thornton Davidson, later received a wireless message from Newfoundland saying Thornton Davidson, son-in-law of Charles M. Hays, and his family had been saved from the Titanic.

In the incomplete lists of the rescued from the Titanic are the names of six St. Louisans and former St. Louisans who were among the first-class passengers. Relatives of all of them were notified by the Post-Dispatch Tuesday morning.

The lists contained the following names:

Mrs. Edward S. Robert, 4140 Lindell boulevard.

Miss Georgette Madill, 4140 Lindell boulevard.

Miss Elisabeth W. Allen. 4140 Lindell boulevard.

Mrs. Charles M. Hays, now of Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Davidson, now of Montreal, and family.

"R. Spencer Silverthorne," believed to be Spencer V. Silverthorne, 5844 Von Versen avenue.

All of these, according to wireless messages, were taken aboard the Carpathia.

Relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Hays were greatly concerned over the fate of the husbands of Mrs. Hays and her daughter, Mrs. Thornton Davidson. The wire to the Post-Dispatch from Halifax saying that Hays was among the rescued greatly reassured them, although there was still no news from Davidson.

Members of the family were puzzled over the name of Miss Margaret Hays in the list of survivors. Marjory Hays was the maiden name of Mrs. George Hall, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hays, who is with her husband in Boston. Mrs. Davidson formerly was Miss Orian Hays of St. Louis.

Mrs. Hays is the sister of Norris B. Gregg of the Buckingham Hotel, William H. Gregg, 4440 Laclede avenue, and Mrs. L. Kotany, 4438 Laclede avenue.

Charles M. Hays is president of the Grand Trunk Railway, with offices in Montreal. He was formerly general manager of the Wabash with headquarters in St. Louis and has a wide acquintance here. He is a son of former Posmaster Hays of St. Louis. Davidson is a broker.

St. Louis relatives of Theophile Papin Jr. of 3765 Lindell boulevard, whose name was in the first list of passengers, but did not appear in the revised list, received, at noon Tuesday, a telegram from his sister, Mrs. Gerald Borden of New York City, announcing that she had received a cablegram from Papin at Rome. Mrs. Borden formerly was Miss Lucille Papin of St. Louis.

Clouds are the bill the weather forecaster holds out for St. Louis Tuesday evening. A few light showers may come.

If the forecast is correct the skies will clear Wednesday and slightly higher temperatures will be recorded in the afternoon.

St. Louis, in spite of the cool wave that came Monday night, is fortunate in comparison with some sections of the country. The mercury fell to 26 degrees in Western Nebraska and the Dakotas, and killing frosts were reported from various areas.

Official forecast for St. Louis and vicinity: Cloudy weather tonight; Wednesday fair, somewhat warmer Wednesday afternoon.

CARPATHIA DUE THURSDAY NIGHT

NEW YORK, April 16.—Intense interest centers in the gradual approach to New York of the Liner Carpathia, bearing the 868 survivors of the Titanic. It is this ship which promises to bring the first authentic details of the great tragedy and the scene that followed. The Carpathia is a slow vessel, and is due at Sandy Hook about 11 o'clock Thursday night.

Meanwhile the Carpathia will be within the wireless range of several stations along her course. Her wireless plant has a radius of about 150 miles, according to the Cunard company. She will be south and abreast of Sable Island late today.

GOVERNMENT TO MAKE INVESTIGATION

WASHINGTON, April 16.—A quick report from the White Star Line on the number of lifeboats and life rafts carried by the Titanic has been telegraphed for by Supervising Inspector Uhler of the Government Steamboat Inspection Service.

ABOUT 2200 PERSONS WERE ABOARD TITANIC.

Passengers of all classes	1310
Crew	860
Women and children in first cabin	143
Women and children in second cabin	87

White Star line officials say that a small number of passengers may have been taken on after the booking list was made up, and that the crew may be a little larger or smaller than stated.

TITANIC IS BURIED 2 MILES UNDER WATER

HALIFAX, N. S., April 16.

THE death bed of the $10,000,000 steamer Titanic and of many who must have been dragged with her, is two miles, at least, below the surface of the sea.

The calculation was made by an official of the Government Marine Department, who finds that depth on the marine chart at a point about 500 miles from Halifax and about 70 miles south of the Grand Banks, where he believes the Titanic went down.

This location is about midway between Sable Island and Cape Race and in line with that dangerous place, which, however, might have proved a place of safety had there been time to run the Titanic there and beach her.

7,000,000 PIECES OF MAIL ON STEAMER

NEW YORK, April 16.

POSTMASTER EDWARD M. MORGAN stated today that the White Star liner Titanic had on board 3500 sacks of mails. It is not likely, he said, that the mails were saved. As the standard ocean mail bag holds about 2000 letters it is estimated that in all about 7,000,000 pieces of mail matter have been lost.

There's abundant chance for advancement—constant endeavor, well directed, intelligent effort gain recognition and increased responsibilities with added remuneration for Post-Dispatch want ad readers.

TWO-THIRDS OF THOSE IN PARTIAL LIST OF RESCUED ARE WOMEN

NEW YOKR, April 16.—Wireless from Capt. Roston of Carpathia, to Cunard line here, reads: "Prooceeding to New York with about 800. Consulted with Mr. Ismay. So much ice about, considered New York best. Large number icebergs and twenty miles field-ice with bergs amongst."

HALIFAX, N. S., April 16.—The Allan Liner Parisian reports by wireless, via Sable Island, that she has no passengers from the Titanic on board.

MONTREAL, April 16.—The Allan Line issues the following statement: "We are in receipt of a Marconi via Cape Race, from Capt. Gambell of the Virginian, that he arrived on the scene of the disaster too late to be of service and is proceeding to Liverpool."

CAPE RACE, April 16.—Olympic reports by wireless "Carpathia reached Titanic position at daybreak FOUND BOATS AND WRECKAGE ONLY. Titanic sank about 2:20 a. m. in 41:16 N., 50:14 W. ALL HER BOATS ACCOUNTED FOR, containing about 675 souls saved, crew and passengers included. Nearly all saved women and children. Californian remained searching exact position of disaster.

HALIFAX, N. S., April 16. — The liner Parisian has reported by wireless that she steamed through much heavy field ice looking for passengers from the ill-fated Titanic. No life rafts or bodies were sighted among the floating wreckage which covered a large area. The Parisian reports that the weather was cold, and that even if any persons had been on the wreckage they would in all probability have perished from exposure before they could have been picked up.

The Sable Island cable ship Minia reported that she had sighted a great mass of wreckage but no boats or rafts from Titanic. This for the time disposes of the hope that the Minia might have picked up some of the Titanic's passengers.

NEW YORK, April 16.—There are among the 868 survivors of Titanic now on the Carpathia steaming for this port, 553 whose names have not been transmitted by the wireless. This gives hope to every friend of passengers of the ill-starred liner that the person he is interested in is one of the unnamed survivors. The mathematical chances are easily seen, as more than 1300 went down with the ship.

According to the best information obtainable, the death list is 1302. The total of passengers and crew is given at 2170 and 868 were saved. The White Star line has made the official announcement as to the number of survivors.

Of the 201 first cabin passengers thus far accounted for, 132 are women, 63 men and six children. Of the 114 second cabin passengers reported surviving, 88 are women, 16 men and 10 children.

It is known that Bruce Ismay, managing director of the White Star line was saved. John Jacob Astor, Maj. Archibald Butt, W. T. Stead, Jacques Futrelle, Washington Roebling, Henry B. Harris, Benjamin Guggenheim and many other men noted in many fields were passengers and their fate is unknown. The chances are, cosidering the proportion lost and saved, that they went down with the ship.

The monetary loss probably will exceed $20,000,000. The magnificent ship cost about $10,000,000, cargo, mails and jewels were worth $10,000,000 more.

Besides the great financial loss incurred by the sinking of the Titanic with her cargo and passengers' property, the losses in accident insurance and life insurance resulting from the disaster will run into the millions.

Insurance men estimate that one traveler in three carries accident insurance, and policies insuring against fatal accidents at sea are generally written for $10,000, twice the amount of that for travel by land. If these figures are applicable to the Titanic's passenger list ,the loss on this item alone is not less than $5,000,000.

The amount of life insurance carried by the Titanic's passengers can not be computed. In her passenger list appear the names of scores of wealthy persons, none of whom, in all probability, was without heavy insurance. Many rich men carry life insurance running into the hundreds of thousands of dollars, and since some of those on the Titanic were among the richest in America, the loss in life insurance probably will be high in the millions.

P. A. S. Franklin, vice-president of the International Mercantile Marine Co. was asked if he could account in any way for the quick sinking of the Titanic, which he said repeatedly and confidently yesterday was an "unsinkable ship," and which represented all that modern marine engineering, architecture and unlimited financial backing could put into a transatlantic liner. He was asked, too if a lifeboat equipment of a capacity to carry only about one-third of the ship's company was in keeping with the advertised luxury and safety of the modern levithians of the sea.

With bowed head and shaking voice, Franklin could find only this to say:

"Until the awful news came last night, I believed that even though two compartments of the Titanic were flooded, she would still float. The damage to her hull by the collision must have been beyond all imagination of the men who designed her. She must have been torn and ripped apart

Three Times as Many Persons on Board as Lifeboats Would Hold

NEW YORK, April 16.

THE Bureau of Inspection of Steam Vessels gives statistics of the life-saving apparatus of the Olympic, the Titanic's sister ship. As the two ships are almost identical in size and capacity, it is not likely that their life-saving equipment differs materially.

The Olympic has 16 lifeboats and four collapsible boats, or rafts, calculated to accommodate 1171 persons. This means about one-third of the total number of passengers and crew together, which is 3447. The Olympic carries 2455 life-preservers and 48 life-buoys.

"Until the awful news came last night, I believed that even though two compartments of the Titanic were flooded, she would still float. The damage to her hull by the collision must have been beyond all imagination of the men who designed her. She must have been torn and ripped apart nobody ever believed a ship could be. We believed her boat equipment was adequate to meet any emergency. I cannot say more than that.''

The brief wireless dispatches received so far show that passengers and crew passed through thrilling experiences from the very moment the Titanic crashed into the iceberg until the Carpathia, several hours later, reached the scene and rescued the survivors from lifeboats, floating in a sea of ice.

The collision occurred at a time when most of the passengers had retired or were about to go to bed. The shock of the collision hurried many of the passengers to the decks, partly dressed. A wireless dispatch came through Camperdown, N. S., saying that the passengers were ordered to the lifeboats at once and that many were scantily clad as they took their places in the boats.

This would indicate that the Titanic's condition was such that no time could be spared to return to staterooms for additional clothing.

Danger still confronted even those who were so fortunate as to be put aboard the lifeboats. Huge quantities of field ice covered the ocean, a wireless dispatch says, and in the darkness the survivors had to guide their boats with the greatest care to prevent being jammed and overturned. The ice was so heavy that the lifeboats could not force their way through it, and as a result the boats became widely separated. The air was biting cold and the chill that rose from the ice floes caused the passengers to hover close together to keep warm.

All through the night the lifeboats bobbed helplessly between the shifting cakes of ice, while the survivors prayed for dawn to come.

LINER TAKES TWO-MILE PLUNGE TO BOTTOM.

Shortly after 2 o'clock the sinking Titanic made her great dive into the sea, carrying with her hundreds of persons to death.

Daylight came and with it arrived the Cunarder Carpathia, which found only the lifeboats filled with crew and passengers, floating helplessly about the vicinity where the Titanic had gone under.

Captain E. J. Smith, commander of the Titanic, probably went to his grave with his ill-fated vessel without once being able to communicate direct with the agents of his line. Aside from the S O S sent by his wireless operator, not one word from him was received up to the time the Titanic sank bow foremost into the ocean. The presumption is that he met death at his post, as a gallant skipper should.

That he and his crew enforced rigidly the unwritten law of the sea—women and children first—is plainly indicated by the preponderance of women among the partial list of survivors that the wireless has given.

Although rated as one of the most able commanders since the advent of the modern steamship, Captain Smith's career had been recently marred with ill luck. He was in command of the Titanic's sister ship Olympic when that vessel was in collision with the British cruiser Hawke. Exonerated of all blame for this occurrence, he was placed in charge of the Titanic, only to graze disaster when his new charge fouled the steamship New York in the Solent after leaving Southampton on her maiden voyage, which has ended so disastrously. He had been in the line's employ for more than 30 years, and his first important command was the Majestic.

Although 868 persons are reported to be on the Carpathia, it is apparent that all of them are not passengers, for it was necessary for members of the Titanic's crew to man the lifeboats which set out from the sinking liner. How many of the crew were assigned to each boat is a matter of conjecture. A similarly unsettled matter is the percentage of first-class passengers among those saved. While the names of the survivors obtained are largely those of saloon passengers, the rule ''women first'' should apply equally to the second cabin and steerage, a regulation which may have cost the life of many prominent men above decks. It is natural also that the names of the more obscure survivors would be slower in reaching land.

FALSE NEWS CAUSES RAISING OF FALSE HOPES.

False news and false hopes and an international belief that the palatial Titanic was practically unsinkable followed the slowly unfolding accounts of her loss in a way without precedent. Eager crowds in a dozen cities in the United States, besieged bulletin boards when it became known that the giant liner had really sunk with terrible loss of life, and in New York city, hysterical men and women crowded into the White Star Line offices seeking news of relatives. Vincent Astor, Col. Astor's son, spent the entire night waiting for some wireless tidings of his father, alternately visiting the White Star headquarters and the newspaper offices.

The speed at which the Titanic was traveling when she shattered herself against the iceberg will perhaps not be known until the first of her survivors reach port. Whatever her rate of progress, however, shipbuilders here and abroad must admit that while the modern steamship may defy wind and weather, ice and fog remain an ever present element of danger. No ship they point out, no matter how staunchly built, nor how many watertight bulkheads protect her, may plunge headlong against a wall of ice without grave results. The general opinion is that the Titanic's equipment was put to an extraordinary test which no vessel could have withstood.

Helpless Before Iceberg.

"Under ordinary circumstances these watertight compartments will preserve a ship from sinking," said A. L. Hopkins, vice-president of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Co. in New York, "but smashing into an iceberg could produce shattering effects that would make a ship helpless beyond the protection of any design yet known. In fore and after collisions where the compartments are punctured, the lowering of either end of the ship produces an increased strain on the other compartments."

Granting that only the forward bulkhead of the Titanic had been crumpled by the impact with the iceberg Hopkins was inclined to think that the relative buoyancy of the remaining compartments would have been sufficient to save the vessel. Inasmuch as he was not familiar with the relative division of the Titanic's compartments he could not estimate how many compartments must have given away under the impact of the collision.

Robert Stocker, naval constructor of the Brooklyn Navy Yard, said:

"In the case of the Titanic I am inclined to think that her sinking was due to the effect of grounding rather than impact of collision. Frequently a ship strikes what is known as a 'pinnacle rock,' ripping open her keel. The iceberg against which the Titanic smashed her bow may have had some such submerged projection which did additional damage to the keel. If the forward bulkheads of the vessel had held after the impact which smashed the bow, it certainly seems that the relative buoyancy of the remaining bulkheads would have been sufficient to keep the ship afloat. I am inclined to believe that a great many of her compartments must have been punctured or sprung."

FIRST CABIN PASSENGERS HAD $1,000,000,000 TOTAL WEALTH

MANY RICH MEN ARE INCLUDED IN PASSENGER LIST

Col. Astor and Benjamin Guggenheim Among Those Who Have Not Been Reported.

A. G. VANDERBILT IS SAFE

Remains in London, Although It Was Reported he Sailed on Titanic.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 16.—The list of prominent persons on the Titanic resembles an American Social Register, and a Bradstreet's report, when read in the light of telegrams from various cities printed today. A conservative estimate of the total wealth represented in the first-class passenger list would exceed $1,000,000,000.

The wealthiest of the list is Col. John Jacob Astor, head of the famous house whose name he bears, who is reputed to be worth $150,000,000. Astor was returning from a tour of Egypt with his bride, who was Miss Madeleine Force, whom he married in Providence on Sept. 9.

Benjamin Guggenheim, probably next in financial importance is the fifth of the seven sons of Meyer Guggenheim, who founded the American Smelting and Refining Co., the great mining corporation, and is a director of many corporations, including the International Steam Pump Co., of which he is also president. His fortune is estimated at $95,000,000. His wife, whose name does not appear on the passenger list, is the daughter of James Seligman, the New York banker.

It was at first reported that Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt of New York was a passenger, but Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt received a cablegram from her son saying that he had not sailed, and was safe in London.

Harper in Like Peril Before.

Harry Sleeper Harper, who was a passenger, is a grandson of John Wesley Harper, one of the founders of Harper Brothers in New York. Harper is a lover of outdoor life and considerable of an amateur naturalist. He is interested in the preservation of the Adirondack forests and is a confirmed traveler, spending a part of each year in knocking about the world. Ten years ago he had a narrow escape from shipwreck when a ship on which he was a passenger collided with an iceberg off Newfoundland.

Dr. Henry Frauenthal, chief surgeon of the Hospital for Deformities and Joint Diseases in New York, was a passenger. He has attracted wide attention by some of his wonderful surgical operations, one of the most remarkable being when he grafted the shin bone of a man into a woman's leg in this city, after the man had been dead only a few hours, and the operation was pronounced a success.

Isidor Straus, who, with his wife, was a passenger, is one of the most prominent merchants in America. He is connected with many prominent business organizations, among them R. H. Macy & Co., L. Straus & Sons, Abraham & Straus, is vice-president of the Birbeck Investment, Savings and Loan Co. and is president and director of the Educational Alliance. He is a prominent philanthropist.

Mrs. Frederick Joel Swift, prominent in the social circles of Brooklyn, has been on a winter's trip to Egypt. Last fall Mrs. Swift's house was robbed of a large amount of jewelry. The thief telephoned and offered to return the loot next day. When he came to give it back he was arrested, but Mrs. Swift declared the man was unbalanced mentally.

Frank M. Hoyt is well known as a lover of yachting. He is commodore of the Larchmont Yacht Club.

T. W. Cavendish of England was a passenger, with his American wife, who before her marriage was Miss Julia Siegel, daughter of Henry Siegel of New York.

Henry B. Harris, the theatrical manager, was a passenger, with his wife. He has been to England obtaining plays for America and has just arranged that Miss Frances Starr shall appear in England.

Big Names in Philadelphia.

There were many prominent Philadelphians on the ship, among them Mr. and Mrs. John B. Thayer and their son, John B. Thayer Jr., of Haverford; Wm. C. Dulles of 319 South Twelfth street, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ryerson of Haverford, who are hurrying home to attend the funeral of their son, Arthur L. Ryerson, who was killed last Monday, together with J. Louis Hoffman, a Yale student, in an automobile; Mrs. J. W. M. Cardoca of Washington Lane and Morton streets, Germantown, and her son, T. D. M. Cardoca; Robert W. Daniel of the banking firm of Shellard-Smith-Daniel company of 328 Chestnut street, and C. Duane Williams and his son, Richard Norris Williams Jr., former residents of Philadelphia, but now living in Europe, who are on their way to visit relatives in Chestnut Hill.

John B. Thayer is a vice-president of the Pennsylvania Railroad and his home is at Redwood, Haverford. It is one of the places near Philadelphia that visitors to the city try to see. Mrs. Thayer before her marriage was Miss Marion L. Morris.

William E. Carter of Newport and Philadephia, is a well-known horse lover and frequently acts as judge at horse shows in New York. His house, Quatrofoil, at Newport, is one of the show places there. He spends a good deal of his time in Europe and was on his way home. Mrs. Carter, who was Miss Lucille Polk, of an old Virginia family, is an expert driver of four-in-hands. They were accompanied by their son and daughter: William C. Dulles is a prominent banker with a home in the country at Goshen, N. Y.

Mrs. Thomas Potter, widow of Col. Potter, and her daughter, Mrs. Boulton Earnshaw of Mount Airy, were passengers. Mrs. Potter is a sister-in-law of William Potter, ex-Minister to Italy. Since the death of her husband she has been traveling in Syria with her daughter.

Returning With Bride's Trousseau.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. Widener of "Lynnewood Hall," Philadelphia, were accompanied by their son, Harry Elkins Widener. Widener is a well known Philadelphia capitalist. It was said in Philadelphia that George D. Widener and his wife went abroad several weeks ago, Widener for the purpose of inspecting several works of art his father had intended to purchase, and his wife to superintend the purchase of a trousseau for her daughter, Miss Eleanor, whose engagement to Fitz-Eugene Dixon was recently announced.

It was also believed in Philadelphia last night, that Mrs. Joseph Pennell the wife of Joseph Pennell, the artist, was aboard the ship, as letters have been received by Edward Robine, her brother, secretary of the board of trustees of the University of Pennsylvania, saying that she expected to sail on the Titanic. This could not be verified, however.

Washington Roebling, second son of Charles G. Roebling and grandson of John A. Roebling, the bridge builder and founder of the Roebling steel industry, was among the passengers. He is an inventor and in 1908 designed and built an automobile that attracted a great deal of attention because of its ability to smash records.

William T. Stead, the English journalist, was a passenger. He was born at Embleton, July 5, 1849, the son of a Congregational minister. He is the editor of the Review of Reviews and Masterpiece Library, and the author of many books.

Maj. Archibald Butt, President Taft's military aid, was returning from a trip to Rome and Paris.

Thomas Pears of Pittsburg, prominent in the iron and steel industry, is the owner of big mills in that city. He has been in New York frequently of late, attending conferences of steel men during the investigation of the industry by the Stanley Committee.

Washington Dodge, for many years an assessor of the City of San Francisco, was a passenger with his wife and son. Mr. Dodge took an active interest in the purification of San Francisco politics several years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacques Futrelle were passengers. Futrelle was for many years a Boston newspaper man. Their home is at Niantic, Mass.

The Countess of Rothes, whose husband is a member of the King's household in England, was on her way to Newport to visit friends there. Before her marriage she was Miss Edwards, daughter of an English manufacturer.

Christopher Head, who is one of the rising barristers of the English bar, is the son of Henry Head of the famous underwriting firm of Lloyds. He is about 40 years old, and married.

Mrs. Clarence Moore, formerly Miss Mabel Swift, daughter of E. C. Swift, the Chicago pork packer, was a passenger with her husband. It was Mrs. Moore to whom before her marriage devoted court was paid by Prince Alexander Karageorgovitch, the pretender to the throne of Servia.

Prominent Canadians.

Among prominent Canadian passengers on the Titanic were C. M. Hays, president of the Grand Trunk Railway; Mrs. Hays and H. Markland Moison, Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Davidson, Mrs. James Baxter, Q. Baxter, H. J. Allison and Mrs. Allison, Paul Chevre of Montreal, Maj. Penchen of the Queen's Own Rifles of Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Fortune and Mrs. Graham, a buyer for Eaton's department store of Winnipeg.

F. M. Warren and wife, named in the Titanic's passenger list, reside in Portland, Ore. Warren is millionaire president of a packing company. Herman Klaber, a passenger, is a millionaire hop grower of Portland.

Dr. Washington Dodge of San Francisco was on the Titanic together with his wife and child. He is widely known as an authority on taxation.

Hugh R. Reed, vice-president and general manager of the Pacific Creosoting Co., another of the Titanic's passengers, is a wealthy resident of Seattle, who, with his wife, had been spending the winter on the Continent. Mrs. Reed and her maid were to sail later.

E. P. Colley of Victoria, B. C., who was among the passengers, is a land surveyor employed by the British Columbia Government.

Icebergs One of the Worst Menaces to Ocean Liners

NEW YORK, April 16.

ICEBERGS, such as the one that caused disaster to the Titanic, are one of three sources of gravest peril to vessels navigating the North Atlantic. The other two are fog and derelicts. The iceberg menace has been greater this spring than in any recent year.

In the last 50 years there have been a dozen disasters to big liners for which icebergs were responsible. A majority of these occurred off Newfoundland and the Grand Banks, in the general vicinity of the Titanic's grave.

The list of these disasters includes:

SHIP LOST.	PLACE.	YEAR.	LIVES LOST.
Canadian	Mid-Atlantic	1863	45
Immigrant Ship	Off Cape Race	1864	158
Vicksburg	Off Cape Race	1869	65
Warrior	Grand Banks	1878	29
North Star	Cabot Strait	1881	67
Medway	Off Newfoundland	1887	29
Vaillant	Grand Banks	1897	70
Snow Bird	Off Cape Race	1898	6
Endymion	Grand Banks	1900	8
Islander	Off Alaska	1901	67
Albatross	Mid-Atlantic	1903	22
Titanic	Off Cape Race	1912	1,304

THE drift of ice this spring has been farther south than for years. Vessels arriving here and abroad have reported ice fields extending far down into the Southern track and skippers have told of being shut in by ice as far as they could see on every side of the horizon.

The size of the bergs which have been encountered recently varies greatly, but according to reliable reports, bergs reaching from 60 to 100 feet to the top of its walls with pinnacles and spires extending to a height of 250 feet or more have not been unusual. Below the water some of these giant bergs extend to a depth of probably 800 feet.

SCENE OF WRECK AWAY FROM ICE

LONDON, April 16.—Up to 3:30 o'clock this morning the White Star officials at Liverpool had no further news concerning the Titanic. Brief wireless messages from Cape Race have been received, but they are identical with those from New York. Virtually all the Titanic's crew belong in Southampton, where the greatest anxiety prevails as to their fate.

Interviews are published here with experts relative to the possible cause of the disaster.

Considerable attention is called to the quest as to whether it was possible that suction could have had anything to do with it and pointed out that this question came up in the inquiry into the Olympic-Hawke collision. It is considered by some not impossible that the effect of suction near an iceberg might be to draw the vessel out of her course.

Sir Ernest H. Shackleton points out that the scene of the Titanic disaster was 14 miles south of the supposed possible range of ice fields.

Sir William White, the famous naval constructor, considers there can be no question of suction in the case of the Titanic, because suction, he says, depends upon relative speeds, and as an iceberg is almost stationary he thinks the Titanic simply struck an iceberg.

GUGGENHEIN IS NOT HEARD FROM

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Senator Guggenheim of Colorado, in telephone consultation with the White Star Line office in New York, was unable to learn the fate of his brother, Benjamin Guggenheim, reputed one of the wealthiest men in the world. So far as known his wife did not accompany him.

"The company gave me one encouraging statement," said the Senator, "that the Titanic carried all the life boats required under the laws of the United States. Of course, the number already reported rescued includes a considerable number of seamen necessary to man the boats. It is possible that some of the lifeboats got away from the scene and that they may be picked up by other vessels not yet heard from."

"YOU only paid $50 for that diamond?" "Yes, it's a bargain, and the Credit Plan, too. $5 down, at Loftis Bros., 306 N. 6th."

$12,000,000 IS ESTIMATED LOSS ON THE TITANIC

Vice-President Franklin Insists That Value of Liner Was Only $6,000,000.

INSURANCE WAS $5,000,000

Mail and Freight Went Down, as Well as the Valuables of Passengers.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 15.—The insurance on the Titanic herself must have amounted, according to the local agents of Lloyds, to $5,000,000, of which a part at least was carried by the International Mercantile Marine Co., in the form of a surplus fund for insurance purposes, and another part by the What Star Line.

But a large amount, probably exceeding $3,000,000, was carried by the Lloyds agencies in the shape of policies drawn by as many different marine insurance companies. These policies covered every possible contingency, and the premiums for them were figured accordingly.

It is certain, according to the estimates of other steamship men, that the sinking of the Titanic will mean a money loss, exclusive of insurance, which may be collected, of approximately $10,000,000, and the probabilities are that damage suits and other losses will bring up this estimate to a much larger figure. In fact, it looks as though the original estimate of $12,000,000 would not be too great.

OLYMPIC BOATS CAN CARE FOR 1171 OF 3447 ABOARD

Laws Require No Ship to Carry Enough Life Saving Craft to Accommodate All.

NEW YORK, April 16.—Statistical information of the life-saving apparatus of the Olympic, sister ship of the Titanic, was given out today by the Bureau of Inspection of Steam Vessels. Figures for the Titanic are not available, but as the two ships were almost identical it is not likely that their life-saving equipment materially differed.

The Olympic has 16 lifeboats and four rafts calculated to accommodate 1171 persons. This means about one-third of the total number of passengers and crew together, which is 3447, can be accommodated. It was stated at the bureau that no ship is required to have sufficient boat room to accommodate all its complete passenger and crew list.

The Olympic carries 3455 life preservers and 48 life buoys and these equipments are made in compliance with the regulations of the British Board of Trade. The United States Bureau has no power except to see that each steamship meets the requirements of its home government.

THUNDERSTORM OFF NOVA SCOTIA

Conditions Leave Little Hope for Those From Titanic Who Still May Be in Boats.

MONTREAL, April 16.—The weather signal station on the Gulf of St. Lawrence reported today that heavy fogs lay off Nova Scotia and that a violent thunderstorm broke in that neighborhood last night and is traveling eastward.

It was said that such conditions left little hope for the rescue of any survivors of the Titanic that still might be adrift on rafts or in boats,

GREATEST BLOW IN SOUTHAMPTON

Relatives of Crew, Every Member of Which Had His Home There, Throng Offices.

SOUTHAMPTON, England, April 16.—Distressing scenes were witnessed today at the White Star offices here, which were thronged by the relatives of the crew of the Titanic.

The town was stunned absolutely by the disaster, which is the greatest blow Southampton ever has suffered. Every member of the crew had his home here and a large portion of them were natives of the town.

TAFT IS ANXIOUS ABOUT MAJ. BUTT

WASHINGTON, April 16.—President Taft was in great anxiety for news of his aide, Maj. Archibald W. Butt, one of the four Washington men on the Titanic. The President had frequent inquiries made of the newspaper offices and the steamship agency.

No word had been received at a late hour at the homes of Frank D. Millet, the artist; Col. Archibald Gracie or Clarence Moore, the three other Washingtonians aboard.

And Now That Musical Friend, the Piano, Can Be Purchased Safely

There's been a new piano business started in St. Louis—

And just because "old piano ways" were not good enough for this new St. Louis.

It is a piano business growing out of our logical belief that St. Louis needed a piano store—

(1)—Where people would know that the piano they selected was worthy to be their "life-long musical friend," whether that piano bore a great name or simply the endorsement of this store.

(2)—Where people would know in advance that the price upon each piano was the one and only price, and the lowest price at which that particular piano could be sold.

And the greatest piano and player-piano builders in the world indorsed this new way by seeking this store to present their makes in St. Louis. The fact that we control for St. Louis and vicinity the sale of

The Sweet-Tone Vose Piano

And the Behr Brothers' Piano, is proof conclusive of this. The fact that we also control the

INNER-PLAYER

(To be found only in the Conover, Cable and Kingsbury Pianos), may be taken that this Piano Store stands second to none in presenting the best Player-Pianos in the world today, for the Inner-Player is considered the last achievement in Player-Piano construction.

And remember, besides lowest prices, through the economic way we conduct this business, we offer all Pianos on the easiest possible terms of payment—

There are values represented by these reduction prices which we feel sure are not to be duplicated in any other store in St. Louis today.

There's more intrinsic value in cloth and workmanship (to say nothing of that elusive quality, style, which is so important above all things), than one will find in outer garments elsewhere at the former prices of these.

No wonder, then, that these groups present quite irresistible bargains to the woman particular about the clothes she wears.

SIM HARRIS IS NEAR DEATH AT HOSPITAL

Two Operations Performed on Former Secretary of Republican League Clubs.

Sim Harris, widely known in St. Louis Republican politics, was reported Tuesday near death in the Missouri Baptist Sanitarium, Taylor and Bell avenues. Two operations, one for gallstones and another for appendicitis, have been performed upon him within the past few days. If he gains sufficient strength, he will be operated upon for rupture within the next 10 days.

Harris was formerly secretary of the Republican League Clubs of Missouri, but broke down under mental strain several years ago, and at different times has been sent to the Missouri Sanitarium at Fulton.

While practicing law in Cincinnati he had $50,000 in United States bonds stolen from his safe about 30 years ago. He was never able to discover the thief, but when the bonds fell due a few years ago the Government found him in St. Louis and paid him the principal and accumulated interest.

Castro in Canary Islands.

CARACAS, Venezuela, April 16.—The Government has received official information that ex-President Castro is now in the Canary Islands, and that Gen. Jose Manuel Hernandez, known as "El Mercho," the former leader of the Nationalist party, is at Malaga, Spain. The Government believes that revolutionary plots may for the present be considered at an end.

E. G. LEWIS ASKS FOR ONLY FOUR COUNTS AT SECOND TRIAL

At First Hearing Publisher Was Held Accountable on 12 Accusations—Houts Ready for Retrial in Two Weeks.

Attorneys for Edward G. Lewis filed notice in the United States District Court Tuesday that they would apply to the United States Supreme Court at noon, May 5, for a writ of prohibition to restrain the District Court from trying Lewis on more than four counts of the indictment against him charging him with the use of the mails to defraud in the sales of securities of his University City corporations.

The indictments on which Lewis was tried before Judge Amidon contained 12 counts. Attorneys for Lewis tried to get Judge Amidon to limit District Attorney Houts to four counts, but Judge Amidon ruled that he might be tried on all 12 counts.

Notice of intention to apply for the writ of prohibition was signed by Attorneys Barclay and Cullen.

District Attorney Houts announced Tuesday that he could be ready within two weeks to prosecute Lewis again on the 12-count indictment charging him with using the mails to defraud.

The jury stood nine to three for conviction from the first of its 50 ballots to the last. Members of it said that supplementary instructions given by Judge Amidon Monday had no perceptible influence with the jury.

Rests With Judge.

Houts said that so far as he was concerned it rested with Judge Amidon when a new hearing would be given. He thought it would take two weeks to get another venire together and to get the Government's witnesses back to St. Louis.

Amidon was appointed to try the Lewis case by Judge Sanborn of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals. He will have jurisdiction over it until the case is settled unless the Appellate Court should remove him at the request of the attorneys for the defense. Immediately after the case was ended Monday, the jurist departed for his home in Fargo, N. D., where a son is seriously ill. The jurors, mostly farmers, departed for their homes as soon as they could get away.

United States Marshal Regenhardt, who was in charge of the jury, told Tuesday of an interesting incident of the closing day of the trial. It indicated to him that Lewis himself was the first person in court to surmise that the jury had not found him guilty, even before the edict was announced.

When the jury came in to make its final report, he told, one of the three who had held out for acquittal, Daniel Brennan, found himself sitting opposite the defendant. Regenhardt declares that Brennan winked amiably at Lewis and nodded his head reassuringly, whereas the promoter brightened up and smiled at his wife.

Miss Louise Cullen, stenographer for Houts, says she also saw the juror express assurances of his feelings towards the defendant by nodding at him and that Lewis became so elated that he clapped one of his attorneys, Patrick H. Cullen, on the arm.

The supplementary instructions given by Judge Amidon Monday morning were considered by attorneys as very favorable to the prosecution.

The jury stood 9 for conviction and 3 for acquittal from the start, several of the jurors told. Those who voted for acquittal were R. F. Holloman of Hogan, Mo.; J. M. Johnson of Bourbon, Mo., and Daniel Brennan of Catawissa, Mo.

Largest Man on Jury.

Brennan, the largest man on the jury, was a center of attraction for many after the jury was dismissed. He was congratulated by men, who shook him by the hand. Among these was Attorney P. H. Cullen, one of Lewis' counsel.

Brennan, however, was not disposed to talk for publication of his stand. When asked for a statement by a Post-Dispatch reporter, he said jocularly: "I'm going home tonight. I'll come back next week and let you know all about it."

Someone in the throng asked him how he came to hold out so well. He replied: "My ability to stick it out was threatened only by the strength of the seat of my pants."

Johnson said he held out for acquittal because he believed Lewis meant no wrong.

"I don't think Lewis tried to defraud anybody," he said. "I don't think he meant any wrong, but on the contrary, I think he believed he would be able to do everything he said. I voted against conviction straight through because of my belief in his honest intentions."

"Did the Judge's supplemental instructions have any marked effect on you or the other two jurors who were holding out for acquittal?"

"Not one bit. We went back and took a ballot and we stood just the same way."

Holloman said he was reluctant to brand Lewis as a thief.

"The three of us were for acquittal from the start," he said. "We never changed our stand. I firmly believe that Lewis did not intend to take anything from anybody. I think he conscientiously believed everything he did was for the best interest of his investors. To have convicted him meant that we would send him through the world branded as a thief, and I could not vote to do it."

A number of jurors who held out for conviction discussed their stand as follows:

Herman Temming, foreman, Wright City: The evidence of the defense did not affect me any. Lewis' own testimony did not help a bit. I believe the Government proved every one of the 12 counts against Lewis, and I believe I speak for the other eight who stood for conviction. Let the three for acquittal speak for themselves. They may be able to explain to the public why they thought Lewis innocent, but they failed to show us anything. They had no argument at all.

J. C. Danuser, Hermann: There is one thing I want to make plain, and that is that the Saturday visit of some of us to University City had nothing whatever to do with the stand of the jury. Not one of the three men who were for acquittal went to University City that Saturday, and not one of us who went saw or heard anything there that helped us make up our minds. It is certain that Judge Amidon's added instructions and our additional six hours' confinement did not help a bit. We did not keep track of our ballots, but I should say we took more than 50 and not one ever showed any change.

We stood at the outset just as we stood at the finish. The three for acquittal seemed to have no other reason for their attitude than that Lewis was innocent because he was innocent. We thought him guilty because we thought the Government produced plenty of evidence to prove every one of the twelve counts.

We thought the sale of Lewis Publishing Co. stock, and the note deals were fraudulent, but I think the last three counts, covering the debentures were what convinced us that Lewis should be convicted.

Judge Amidon's supplemental instructions were as follows:

"Gentlemen of the jury: I am very reluctant to accept a disagreement in this case at your hands. The trial has been a long and expensive one. If you are unable to agree it must result in another trial equally long and expensive.

"I am convinced that all the evidence which can be produced bearing upon the issues in this case to aid you in arriving at a just verdict has been produced. I am also convinced that a panel of jurymen can be no more impartial than you—a panel of jurymen, every man of which as I look at you, is desirous of arriving at a just verdict under the law and the evidence. Believing that to be your purpose and the purpose of each one of you, I am reluctant to accept a disagreement. A mistrial is always a misfortune to be avoided, if it can be avoided consistently with a just performance of duty. I am convinced that your inability to agree upon a verdict must arise either from some misapprehension of the law or from some mistaken idea as to your proper functions and powers as jurymen in weighing of the evidence.

Asks for Unbiased Attention.

"May I not ask you, each one of you, now for a few moments to lay aside the opinions which you have been advocating and defending during the hours in which you have had this case in your keeping and listen to what I am about to say to you, with candid minds, with a desire to hear what I say, to carry it away with you, and to use it in another attempt to decide this case?

Refers to Oath Taken.

"I wish to call your minds back to that morning, something like seven weeks ago, when we were selecting a jury to try this case. On that occasion you, each of you, said that you knew nothing about the case; that you had no bias and no prejudice in regard to the case, and that your minds, as they stood at that time, were just as willing to be led to a verdict of not guilty as to a verdict of guilty, and just as willing to be led to a verdict of guilty as to a verdict of not guilty. And it was upon that representation that you were accepted as jurymen in this case. And you then rose and each of you held up your hands and took an oath that you would decide this case according to the law as given you by the Court, and according

MISS BRADLEY CONFESSES

Hopes That Her Statement, Made Public, Will Save a Great Many Wrongly Suffering Women

"I must confess," says Miss Eula Mae Bradley of Hines, Ala., "that Cardui, the woman's tonic, has done me a great deal of good.

"Before I commenced using Cardui, I would spit up everything I ate. I had a tired, sleepy feeling all the time.

"I could hardly drag around, and would have severe headaches continuously.

"Since taking Cardui, I have entirely quit spitting up what I eat. Everything seems to digest all right, and I have gained 10 pounds in weight.

"I still have headaches occasionally, but nothing like as bad as before. I intend to continue using Cardui until I am entirely well.

"You may publish this statement, as other ladies might profit thereby."—Hines, Ala.

If you are a victim of any of the numerous ills so common to your sex, it is wrong to suffer.

For half a century, Cardui has been relieving just such ills, as is proven by the thousands of letters, similar to the above, which pour into our office, year by year.

Cardui is successful, because it is composed of ingredients which act specifically on the constitution.

Its popularity is due to its merit. Give it a trial for your trouble.

BROADWAY ACTRESS CONQUERS WRINKLES

Green Rooms and the Boudoirs of Fashionable Society Women Hum With Gossip About Amazing New Wrinkle Remover.

Society women and actresses all over the United States are deeply interested in a marvelous new wrinkle remover which has but recently been introduced into the United States by the Princess Yoe Tokio Company of Denver, Colo. The new process of eliminating wrinkles, crow's feet, seamed skins and blemishes of the complexion is said to have created a veritable sensation. Women who have experimented with the numerous nostrums on the market and disliked the process will be interested to know that the new treatment is said to do away with cupping, plasters, greasy creams, steaming, subcutaneous injections and all the old methods which have been used in the past.

One of the best known actresses in the United States, who is no longer in the first flush of youth, is said to have been the member of the profession to introduce the new discovery to stageland. She appeared one day on Broadway, goes the story, with a skin like a child's and all signs of the ravages of time completely obliterated. She was literally besieged by her friends and finally told the secret of having learned of the Princess Yoe Tokio. She is said to have written for particulars, and her face tells of the success of the experiment. Every New York train going West that day is said to have had letters to Princess Yoe Tokio from theatrical people on it. Most of them, it is said, wrote under assumed names, but they all wrote and it is declared the Rialto never looked more youthful than it does this spring. The lead of the theatrical beauties was soon followed by Eastern society women, and the success of the treatment is now the most discussed thing in fashionable circles.

Much mystery attaches to the personality of the Princess Yoe Tokio and to the treatment itself, but its results speak loud enough for anyone who needs such remedies, and so the Denver postoffice is said to be flooded with mail for the mysterious Oriental.—ADV.

LEWIS JURORS EXPLAIN THEIR STAND

to the evidence as produced by the witnesses.

"Gentlemen, what does it mean to decide a case according to the law?

"It means that you will give your attention carefully to the declaration of law as stated by the Court. Every criminal statute forbids the doing of a certain class of acts, and says that any man who does those acts shall be punished. Now what are the acts which the statute upon which the indictment in this case is based says no person shall commit?

"That statute says that any person who devises a scheme to defraud and intends to use the postoffice establishment of the United States in carrying out that scheme, and does actually use the postoffice establishment for that purpose by depositing a letter or paper in the postoffice shall be punished. Those are the facts or the group of facts which this statute forbids any person to be guilty of; a scheme to defraud to be effected by the use of the postoffice and the actual use of the postoffice for that purpose.

"Now that is the law which underlies this indictment. And to decide the case according to the law means that you will accept that law without cavil, without reasoning about it, without saying whether, according to your notion it is wise or unwise, without saying whether you think it is wise or unwise, without saying whether you think it could be made better if something else was added to it, or anything of that kind. It means that you will accept that law as the rule of the case without cavil.

"Next, gentlemen, what does it mean to decide the case according to the evidence? It means this: That you will bring to the consideration of the evidence a mind that is wholly free from bias or prejudice—that is, entirely candid; that is included by sympathy or pity, and unperverted by prejudice; just as willing to be led by the evidence to a verdict of guilty as to a verdict of not guilty, and just as willing to be led by the evidence to a verdict of not guilty as to a verdict of guilty.

"In this case, for example, gentlemen, it does not mean that you will come at the consideration of the evidence with such a mind as this: "I think Mr. Lewis got a great deal of money from a great many poor people and lost it in his business enterprises and therefore he ought to be convicted, and if I can find anything in the evidence that will support me in that conclusion I am going to use it and find him guilty.' That would be a perverted and prejudiced mind.

"On the other hand, it does not mean a mind that will come to the evidence saying: 'I think Mr. Lewis is a good man, he has suffered a great deal; he has endured a great many hardships; he has an honored father and a faithful wife and friends of respectability, and I am going to give him another chance, and if I can find anything in this evidence that will justify me in any way in finding a verdict of not guilty, although the evidence may show that he got the money from these investors pursuant to a scheme by means of which he intended to deceive them into parting with their money, still I am going to find a verdict of not guilty. I am going to be led by my sympathies.'

"That is not deciding the case according to the evidence.

"Deciding the case according to the evidence means that before you commence the consideration of the evidence that you will lay out of your minds all preconceived wishes and purposes and desires, and take up the evidence, and all the evidence, and be willing to be guided by it whever that evidence leads, just as willing to follow it up to a verdict of not guilty as to a verdict of guilty, and just as willing to follow it to a verdict of guilty as to a verdict of not guilty.

"It means that you will come to the consideration of the evidence with minds willing to follow the guidance of that evidence, just as willingly as a good man will follow the leadings of his conscience. That, gentlemen, is the frame of mind in which you should approach your duty in this case.

"And now stop for a moment, look at your own minds, each one of you, and say under the solemn responsibility that rests upon you: "Am I willing to follow the leading of the evidence in this case, whether it leads to a verdict of guilty or to a verdict of not guilty?'

"If your mind is not in that state the first thing for you to do is to put your mind in order, and come to the consideration of the case in that frame of mind.

Rules Made Plain.

"And now, gentlemen, every rule is made plain in its application, and I propose to take up one of the group of counts in the indictment and apply the method of considering the case to that group of counts. Let us take up counts 10, 11 and 12. Those are the counts dealing with the sale of the preferred stock of the Lewis Publishing Co.

"They charge that in the month of December, 1908, Mr. Lewis devised a scheme to defraud investors in that stock by certain fraudulent representations. The evidence on most of the features of the charge is uncontradicted

"The evidence showed that Mr. Lewis did devise the business project to sell that stock; that he wrote all the advertisements by which the sale of that stock was promoted; that he sold the stock, that is, through his company it was sold; that in the carrying out of that project he intended to use the postoffice establishment of the United States, and did use it to a very extensive degree; that he deposited the letters and papers mentioned in the counts in the postoffice at St. Louis in furtherance of that project.

He Puts Question.

"Now, if you believe the evidence that is introduced—the evidence upon those subjects is not contradicted; and the only question that was seriously controverted was this: Did he promote the sale of that stock, induce its sale by the fraudulent representations charged in the indictment Now, whatever representations were made in the sale of that stock were made by him.

"He wrote them and caused them to be published. And in determining what representations were made all you have to do is to look at the advertisements.

"The project began on Dec. 3. On that day he issued an advertisement in which he stated, in substance, that any person who would purchase that stock and have it registered in his name would be entiled to the dividend which was about to be declared. He stated that the books would be closed on the 20th of December, and that any person who desired to secure the benefits of the dividend must acquire the stock and have it transferred before that date.

"In those advertisements he stated that the company had earned the dividend; that the directors were about to declare the dividend, and that the dividend would be paid out of the net profits of the company's business. Upon those representations the stock was subscribed for and paid for.

Subscriptions Came In.

"The advertisements ran on; the subscriptions came in, and on the 26th of December, Mr. Lewis wrote and published an advertisement, in which he stated, in substance, that he had received a great many letters from people who were desirous to purchase the stock and secure the dividend, but owing to the short time between the time when the offer was published and the 20th of December, when the books closed, that they had not had an opportunity to get in their subscriptions, and Mr. Lewis stated in that advertisement that in view of that state of things he would set the date for closing the books forward to Feb. 1, and that people who desired to purchase the stock and have it registered in their name on or before that date would be entitled to the dividend.

"Then the course of advertising went on, stating that any person who purchased and acquired the stock on or before that date would be entitled to this accrued dividend of 15 per cent, stating that it had been earned; that it had been declared by the Board of Directors, and that it would be paid out of the net profits of the company.

Points to Representations.

"Now those were the representations that were made. If you have any doubts on that subject you ought to have the advertisements read to you. Those are the representations that were made as I remember the evidence that was adduced here. You also have a memory of the evidence and it is your duty to be guided by the evidence as you remember it; but that is the substance of that line of advertisement as I remember it to have been made.

"Now were those representations false or were they true? How are you going to find that out? Look at the business of the Lewis Publishing Co. What does the uncontradicted evidence in this case show with respect to that business:

"It shows that during this year, 1908, during which time Mr. Lewis in these advertisements represented that the company had attained a condition of profitable status so that it could and would pay this dividend out of its profits, the company had borrowed on its ten months notes nearly one million dollars, and had used hundreds of thousands of dollars of that money in paying the steadily monthly losses of that business.

The treasurer of the company has appeared before you and testified that the current losses of that business during that year was thirty thousand dollars a month. Mr. Radert has brought before you the summary of the books of the company kept under Mr. Lewis' supervision, and from those books it likewise appears that the company had been doing the same kind of a losing business.

"Not only that, but at the very time that this stock was being advertised for sale the company was accepting subscriptions for these seven per cent notes and using the proceeds of those notes as fast as it came in to pay the losses of the company.

"Not only that, but the evidence shows that something like one hundred and twenty-three thousand dollars was gotten in as the purchase price of that part of this stock that was paid for in cash, and that that money, while Mr. Lewis was continuing his advertisements that the company was doing and had been doing a business that justified the paying of this 15 per cent dividend, that money which was derived from the sale of the stock upon the representation that the stock had earned this dividend, was used to pay the losses of the current business of the company.

"Now, gentlemen, as I understand the evidence, there is no conflict in it on those subjects. Do you believe it? Is it credible evidence?

"Mr. Lewis himself has gone on the stand and testified. Did he make any explanation whatever in regard to what representations he made in the sale of this stock, or as to the condition of the business? Did he make any showing that anything that happened after he had made those representations indicating that he had been disappointed, and therefore was unable to make them good? There is nothing of that kind.

"There isn't any showing in this case that between the time the advertising of this stock commenced and the first day of February, when the books closed, that there had been any unforeseen events in the history of this company's business. So far as the evidence shows.

"It went right along just as Mr. Lewis expected it would go during that period.

"Of course, it is possible for you to say, "I believe that if nothing had happened to Mr. Lewis, although he made those representations, and although under the evidence those representations were false, still I believe if nothing had happened to him, nothing had interfered with his business, still he would have been able to pay the money back without loss.' Gentlemen, you are not permitted under your oaths to indulge in such argument as that.

"The law which underlies this case forbade him to get that money by means of false representations, and if he got it by false representations, then I care not what your belief may be as to the fact that he believed that he could pay it back—believed that he could use it in such a way that it would be profitable to those who gave it to him—that can afford no justification whatever for his obtaining the money by fraudulent representations, if he did obtain it in that way.

"There is not a particle of difference in principle between such a state and a state that would exist if Mr. Lewis had been intrusted with some other man's money and he had said, "I think I can use this money in this business so that I can make it pay and return it before I will be called on to return it." That is the form of reasoning of every embezzler who takes money. He says, "I can take it, and I can use it, and I am sure—I have such confidence in my business; I see its outlook so clearly—I can take it and use it and return it without any wrong or any injury to the party to whom it belongs.'

"The law does not tolerate any such wrongdoing or any such reasoning as that.

"In this case it forbade Mr. Lewis to get that money by fraudulent representations, and if he got it by fraudulent representations, the manner in which he got it was wrongful; and the belief on his part, or the belief on your part, that if something had not happened, he could have used the money so as to return it without loss, affords no justification whatever.

"Now, gentlemen, what I request you to do is to take up each count in this indictment and proceed to its consideration along the lines which I have marked out to you; bring to it minds just as willing to be led to a verdict of not guilty as to a verdict of guilty, and just as willing to be led by it to a verdict of not guilty as to a verdict of not guilty.

MRS. L. L. CLOPTON LEAVES $327,214 PERSONAL ESTATE

Will of Albert Bond Lambert's Sister Gives Two-Thirds to Son 6 Years Old.

A personal estate of $327,217.23 was left by Mrs. Lily Lambert Clopton, as shown by an inventory filed in the Probate Court, Tuesday. Mrs. Clopton, who died Nov. 19, 1911, was the wife of Dr. Malvern B. Clopton, and a sister of Albert Bond Lambert.

By the terms of her will two-thirds of the estate go to her son, James "Ted" Walker, now 6 years old, and one-third to her husband. Besides the personal property, Mrs. Clopton left real estate at 5391 Waterman avenue, 3964 West Belle Place, and 110 acres of farm land near Clarksville, Pike County, Mo. No valuation is placed on the real estate in the inventory.

The executirs, the St. Louis Union Trust Co., and George H. Walker, made a motion on the inventory to the effect that Mrs. Clopton possibly had an interest in the estate of her mother, Mrs. Lily Lambert, whose estate was tied up in trust until 30 years after her death. Some questions has arisen as to how the will was to be construed.

Of the personal property of Mrs. Clopton there were notse to the value of $42,800, stocks $63,500, bonds $180,600, cash $16,777.82 and chattels, consisting of jewels and household goods, $21,239.41. Te stocks were listed at par value, but some of them, consisting of stocks of St. Louis banks, have a market value considerably above par.

HEAVY RAINS ADD TO SUFFERING OF FLOOD REFUGEES

Hundreds in Louisiana Sheltered in Freight Cars, Attics and Jail.

By Associated Press.

TALLULAH, La., April 16.—Heavy rains almost of cloudburst proportions which have fallen here the past two days, have intensified the condition of the flood sufferers, many of whom have been without shelter and, in some instances, without food since waters from the Mississippi invated this territory Saturday and Sunday.

Freight cars, attics, upper stories, lodge rooms, the courthouse, high school building and the jail, are being occupied by persons who have been driven from their homes.

More than 2000 negroes on the levees for a distance of 20 miles south of the Salem crevasse, many without food for more than 24 hours, have been rescued.

Three hundred persons are still marooned at Sondheim. Boats are being assembled and today the refugees will be taken to places of safety.

Mrs. George Keller of Quebec, La., in attempting to save some corn in a crib, was bitten by a rattlesnake. It is not believed she can recover.

CHICAGO FIGHT UP TO STATE CONVENTION

Democrats of Cook County Will Send Two Sets of Delegates to Peoria.

CHICAGO, April 16.—Conflict of court orders and the battering of sledges and axes on barred doors preceded the Cook County Democratic convention, and as a result of the conflict of court orders, Coroner Hoffman has been summoned before County Judge Owens to answer a charge of contempt of court for action in conflict with the orders of Judge Owens. The Sheriff and Police and Election Commissioner Czarnecki are also under contempt charges.

Repeated demands were made by Election Commissioner Czarnecki, Republican, delegated by Judge Owens to open the convention, that the Seventh Regiment Armory door be unbarred. The military defiantly refused, and Judge Owens went to the armory and demanded admittance. He, too, was refused. Then the police were ordered by Judge Owens to break in the doors. When the doors fell, Judge Owens and Commissioner Czarnecki entered. Capt. Octigan, who commanded the guardsmen, was arrested, and then released on habeas corpus proceedings. The Hearst-Harrison precinct committeemen, who had been standing in line wearing badges inscribed "Harmony," entered the building.

Commissioner Czarnecki called the roll and the machinery of the convention was turned over to the delegates.

The Sullivan forces and the Democrats known as the Dunne men held a convention in another hall. As a result the State convention at Peoria, Friday, will be called on to decide between two sets of delegates.

STEEL WORKERS TO HAVE A 6-DAY-WEEK

Physical and Moral Effects of Uninterupted Work Condemned by Board.

HOBOKEN, N. J., April 16.—The seven-day weekday and the 12-hour shift in force in the mills of the Steel Trust were condemned bitterly at the annual meeting of the stockholders of the company. The committee which has been investigating the matter presented its report through Stuyvesant Fish.

"Viewed from the physical or moral point of view," he said, "we believe the seven-day week is detrimental to those engaged in it. * * * We are strongly of the opinion that, no matter what alleged difficulties in operation may seem to hinder the abandonment of the seven-day week, they must be met. We are of the opinion that a 12-hour day of labor means the decreasing of the efficiency and lessening of the vigor and virility of the men."

$150,000 LOST LOVE SUIT

NEW YORK, April 16.—On the application of Miss Ellie F. Hayden, her action for $150,000 damages for alleged breach of promise against Arthur F. Luke, former treasurer of the United States Steel Corporation and now a broker and banker in this city, has just been discontinued. Luke and Miss Anna Fleck were married last Saturday afternoon in the Hotel Netherland.

How the settlement of the suit against Luke was brought about attorneys on both sides decline to reveal. They will neither deny nor affirm that Luke paid a substantial sum to end the case. Miss Hayden's counsel said she and Luke had known each other for 20 years, and she was a friend of the first Mrs. Luke, who died five years ago. Miss Hayden alleged that until two months ago she expected to be married to Luke; then she discovered he was attentive to Miss Fleck.

RECEIVERS NAMED FOR BIG OIL COMPANY

Central Fuel of Oklahoma in Contract Dispute With Texas Pipe Line Company.

MUSKOGEE, Ok., April 16.—Receivers were appointed for the Central Fuel Oil Co. in the Federal Court on application of the Bankers' Trust oC. of New York, holder of a $6,000,000 mortgage against the Central company. The receivers are J. A. Veasey of Bartlesville, D. F. Connolly of Tulsa, and Frank Frantz of Muskogee.

The Central Fuel Oil Co. is one of the largest operating oil companies in the midcontinent field, and controls 22 subsidiary oil companies. The Texas Pipe Line Co. sued the Central several months ago for specific performance of contract for transporting and delivering oil. The contract called for the payment of $70,000 monthly to the Texas company by the Central. The difficulty between the Texas and the Central company led to the application for receivers by the Bankers' Trust.

GIRLS QUARREL IN LID CLUB, THEN FIGHT IN STREET

Row Follows Several Hours of Drinking After a Ball—Both Arrested.

MORE PLACES CLOSED

One Man Complains of Being Robbed, Another Complains of Bartender's Charge.

Two young women quarreled at the Broadway Club, 917 Locust street, Tuesday morning and then went outside to "have it out." They were pulling hair, scratching and pummeling each other when Sergt. Matthews and Patrolman Steimel appeared and arrested them. After treatment at the dispensary they were taken to Central District Station, where they said they were Vivian Smith, saleswoman, and Zoe Nelson, waitress, of 3107 Morgan street.

A young man, who seemed to be refereeing the fight when the police appeared, was not arrested, as the women declared he had nothing to do with the affair. They had attended a ball given by the Brewery Workers' Club, they said, and after that went to the Broadway Club. They drank there, they said, until 5 a. m., when the club closed, and then they quarreled.

Peace Disturbance Charge.

Just what started the trouble neither could tell, but each accused the other of calling her names. They were cross-charged with disturbing the peace.

Edward Martin, 29 years old, of 410 Market street, reported to the police that he was robbed of $97. He said he had been in a restaurant at Sixth and Market streets and at the Woodland Club. The police arrested a negro porter at the club and a waitress at the restaurant.

Martin was unable to say where he had been robbed. He said he displayed his money while at the restaurant and in the presence of the waitress. The proprietor told the police that Martin had showed $7 while there and had given the waitress $3 to keep for him.

Lieut. Singleton said he did not think much of Martin's complaint. The suspects were released on bond. The police are still investigating.

More Clubs Close.

Capt. Schoppe of the Carr Street District reported that in addition to the four clubs he closed Monday morning he had given orders that the Friendly Four Club at 1416 Biddle street be suspended. The Jefferson Quoit Club, 2860 McNair avenue, closed its doors Monday, according to the police.

The police say they have closed 11 lid clubs since they began their crusade a week ago.

John Ehret, 32 years old, of 2500 Broadway, bartender at the Tyrolean Club, 5 North Broadway, was arrested at the club, early Tuesday, by Policeman Schuessler, after Albert S. Hodge, of Nineteenth and Madison streets, Granite City, had complained against the club.

Hodge approached Policeman Schuessler at Broadway and Market street, at 6 a. m., Thursday, and told him he had been buying drinks in the club all night, although he was not a member.

His motive for reporting the place, he said, was that when he was leaving, at 5:30 a. m., the bartender attempted to make him pay for a round of drinks he had not bought. The bartender declared, Hodge said, that the drinks, coming to $1.10, had been served to several women, at Hodge's order. Hodge denied having "treated" the women.

JUDGE RULES PIERCE MUST PAY $177,000

Angered When Counsel Wants to Reopen Case Without an Affidavit.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 16.—"If Mr. Pierce doesn't think enough of $177,000 to appear in court or send some kind of an affidavit to open the judgment against him, then I don't care either, and he will be compelled to pay the money."

So said Justice Erlanger in the Supreme Court today when counsel for Henry Clay Pierce, the oil magnate, asked the Justice to reopen the case in which Mrs. Alice G. Rycroft obtained a judgment for $177,000 against Pierce on the grounds that he had converted securities of hers to that amount.

Justice Erlanger was angered khen told that Pierce had not even submitted an affidavit asking that the case be reopened.

"One-hundred and seventy-seven thousand dollars, your honor, is only a flea bite to this man, Pierce," said counsel for Mrs. Rycroft.

"Then he'll have to pay," said the Court.

No Salesman's "Word" —is as good as this— —Bond

OBSERVE the Shoe pictured below! It has Style a-plenty—hasn't it? It has Comfort too, as your Foot may prove before purchase.

But—how long will it wear?

No Salesman could do more than guess at the answer to that question.

Because,—no Salesman could tell what is beneath the finish.

This is why we (The Regal Shoe Co.), who made the Shoe, now give you a legally executed Bond with every pair of these Shoes.

That Bond secures to you (without quibble or question) a full Six Months of Continuous Wear before Outsoles, or Upper Leather break through or wear through.

Six Months "continuous" Wear means much more than "Six Months ordinary Wear."

Because—it means 14 hours of Wear, for every day of 183 Consecutive days.

That's equal to a full year of "Ordinary Wear"—in which you use two pairs of Shoes as relays on alternate days.

⁂

NOW, we don't ask any one to believe a Claim so great and so revolutionary as this, without evidence.

We prove it, before you buy, by issuing a valid Indemnity Bond with the Shoes.

That Bond transfers all the risk to the only people who should know how much Wear is under the finish viz.—to the Makers.

So, here you have an absolutely known quantity of value, with all "Lottery" element eliminated.

Yet the price is only $4.50 per pair.

—Equal to 75 cents per Month for high-grade Super-Stylish Regal Shoe (pre-repair) Wear.

Just half what the average fine Shoe ($3.50 to $5.00) costs you, per Month, for average Wear.

Six new Styles in Oxfords and High-Cut Shoes, are now ready in the Six-Month Regal Shoe line at $4.50.

Observe the "Aristocrat" Model herewith. One of the smartest 1912 Creations. Made in Oxfords as well as High-cuts.

You Get the Promoter's Profit Out of Hillcrest

Hillcrest is now in the rough, and will be sold at "in-the-rough" prices.

The cost of improvements will be assumed by buyers at the auction sale. Thus these buyers will reap the profit on improvements.

This is the big profit in land, the promoter's profit, due to the conversion of rough acreage into residence lots.

In Hillcrest you pay for improvements and get this promoter's profit.

Hillcrest is now in the rough, and will sell at "in-the-rough" prices Saturday, April 27th.

At forced auction.

Complete improvements, though, have been arranged for. Contracts have been let, and the work is under way.

These improvements are to cost $12 per front foot and this amount is to be assumed by purchasers at the auction sale.

No Skimping.

Thus you will pay for the improvements instead of me. And there will be no skimping, no temporary work.

Everything will be done as you would have it. To last for all time.

Mr. Julius Pitzman, City Surveyor, is the engineer in charge. Specifications and contracts were drawn by him.

Improvements are to be identical with those in Skinker Heights, just to the north, with the addition that the streets in Hillcrest are to be oiled.

Go look at these improvements. You will find none better.

Oiled Streets, Gas, Water, Etc.

The streets in Hillcrest are to be the new Telford construction, the strongest of its kind.

Oiled.

Gas, water, large permanent sewers, street crossings, sidewalks, curbs, gutters, street lamps and fire plugs. All are included in Hillcrest.

No Soft Coal.

I have done everything to make Hillcrest an ideal place for homes. Besides complete and permanent improvements, restrictions have been carefully drawn with this in view.

No soft coal may be used in Hillcrest.

The air there will always be fresh and invigorating to breathe.

With oiled streets and no smoke you can keep things clean, including your lungs.

There will be no flats, apartments or stores. Hillcrest is for homes exclusively.

Put Your Profit Into the House.

Think what a tremendous increase in value these complete improvements will bring about in Hillcrest within one year.

This substantial profit, ordinarily, goes to the promoter.

In Hillcrest you get it.

It won't do to let this opportunity get by you. Purchase your lot now at an "in-the-rough" forced auction price; start building within the year and put your profit into the house.

Get Busy Now, Sale April 27th.

This is an opportunity to buy ideal home property with a profit in it, the like of which you have never had before, and never will have again. Remember, Hillcrest goes at forced auction Saturday, April 27.

So get busy now.

Write, call or phone today for illustrated map and complete details about improvements, restrictions, terms, etc.

Then go out there.

Take the Delmar or University cars, transferring to the Clayton line and ride all the way for a 5c fare. Or get off at Skinker Road and take the free auto marked "Hillcrest."

Effective Home Remedy for Tuberculosis

It is a serious matter when the lungs are affected. A trip away or to a sanatorium is not only tremendously expensive, but it involves separation from home and friends. Some are benefited, but none can safely return. Eckman's Alterative is effective—no leaving home necessary. For example:

231 S. Atlantic Ave., Haddonfield, N. J.

"Gentlemen: In the fall of 1905 I contracted a very severe cold, which settled on my lungs. At last I began to raise sputum, and my physician then told me I must go to California immediately. At this time I was advised to take Eckman's Alterative. I stayed at home and commenced taking it the last week in October. I began to improve, and the first week in January, 1906, I resumed my regular occupation, having gained 25 pounds, fully restored to health. It is now five years since my cure has been effected, and I cannot praise Eckman's Alterative too highly. I have recommended it with excellent results."

(Signed) W. M. TATEM.

Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever; Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. For sale by Raboteau Drug Co., Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., Judge & Dolph Drug Co. and other leading druggists. Ask for booklet of cured cases and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence.

ACCUSES 2 WOMEN OF ATTACKING HER

Woman Declares They Entered Her Home and Beat Her Severely.

Mrs. Josephine Prater of 1312 Webster avenue reported to the police about 3 p. m. Monday two young women entered her apartments and beat her with their fists. Dr. D. D. Goldberg of 3055 Easton avenue said Mrs. Prater had a fractured nose and custusions on the face and head.

Mrs. Prater said her assailants were Miss Alta Powers of East St. Louis and Mrs. Marie Boehm of 2707 Dickson street, daughters of Mrs. Mary Powers, who occupies apartments adjoining those of Mrs. Prater.

Mrs. Prater and Mrs. Powers had quarreled recently and Mrs. Boehm and Miss Powers had taken their mother's part, according to Mrs. Prater. Mrs. Powers was not at home when Mrs. Prater reported the assault so the police were unable to obtain her version of the affair. Mrs. Prater was advised to apply for a Police Court summons against Mrs. Boehm and Miss Powers.

NEGOTIATING WITH TURKEY FOR PEACE

Powers Submit Italy's Terms, but Assin Bey Wants Time.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 16.—Representatives of the foreign Powers today took the first steps to endeavor to bring about mediation between Turkey and Italy when an identical note was presented to the Turkish Foreign Minister Assim Bey at his private residence.

The substance of the communication is that, having ascertained the Italian terms of peace, the Powers desire to know Turkey's terms. Assim Bey asked for time to formulate his reply, which is practically certain to be that Turkey declines to enter into negotiations on the basis of the Italian pretensions.

A sign of played-out nerves

It is a "let down" of nerve force, following months of high tension in resisting cold weather.

Nerves need nutrition—specialized nutrition which builds and maintains nerve cells to highest efficiency.

The vital and necessary constituents of all brain and nerve cells, are water, albumin and organic Phosphate of Potash.

Water and albumin in generous quantities are supplied in every-day food.

Phosphate of Potash, on the other hand, is often lacking.

The lack of this necessary element is usually just the difference between nerve strength and nerve weakness.

WOMAN HELD IN POISON MYSTERY IN WHICH BOY DIED

Chief of Detectives Reopens Inquiry Into Ralph Schneider's Death Last Year.

ARSENIC PUT IN FOOD

Mrs. Burhenne Admits Buying Poison Under Assumed Name But Says She Contemplated Suicide.

Resuming an investigation began more than a year ago, Detective Chief Allender is holding Mrs. Clara Burhenne of 3513 Natural Bridge road in the belief that she may give information which will help to clear the mystery of the poisoning of 9-year-old Ralph Schneider.

The boy died Feb. 13, 1911, after eating rolled oats, a sample package of which had been left on the window sill of the Schneider home at 3713 Thompson street.

After a Coroner's verdict that death was due to ptomaine poisoning the City Chemist made analyses showing that arsenic was in the oats and in the boy's stomach.

Woman Was Released.

On information obtained by newspaper reporters that Mrs. Durhenne had bought arsenic at a drugstore, giving an assumed name, Mrs. Durhenne was taken to police headquarters and questioned by James M. Smith, then chief of detectives. Smith released her, saying that she apparently knew nothing of the poisoning.

Chief Allender said Tuesday that no now development in the case had caused him to again order Mrs. Burhenne's detention. Questioned by Allender Mrs. Burhenne repeated her former statement that she purchased arsenic, giving her name as Mrs. Burk. She did this she said because she intended to end her life with the poison, following a family quarrel, though she told the druggist she wanted it to kill rats. She said that after purchasing the poison she changed her mind and did not use it.

Mrs Burhenne told Allender that three samples of the rolled oats were left at her house about the time Ralph Schneider was poisoned, and that she and her children ate the oats.

Trouble Over Children.

It was learned at the time of the poisoning that there had been a feud between the Burhenne and the Schneider children, and that this had caused family quarrels.

"There is a great deal of circumstantial evidence which I think ought to be laid before the prosecuting authorities," said Chief Allender. "I am holding Mrs. Burhenne to give her an opportunity to make a statement."

The sample packages of oats left on the Schneider window sill had small slits cut in the sides. It is believed that the poison was introduced through these.

Mrs. Schneider said Tuesday that she knew of no new development which might have caused the rearrest of Mrs. Burhenne.

The previous detention of Mrs. Burhenne followed the receipt of Mrs. Schneider of a post card which read:

"I put the poison in the oats which killed Randolph Schneider. I am sorry I didn't get the other boys, too.

"MRS. J."

At that time the handwriting on the card was compared with Mrs. Burhenne's. The police said it was not the same.

FIRE IN PHOTO CARD SHOP

Smoke Without a Blaze Puzzles Firemen.

A fire which sent out great volumes of smoke and yet couldn't be found, perplexed the police and firemen 15 minutes Tuesday morning at the postcard photograph shop known as Camera King No. 2, 116 North Sixth street. The alarm was turned in at 9:45 a. m. When the firemen searched the basement, whence the smoke was coming, they were unable to find any trace of a fire.

It was at last discovered that the smoke was coming from a resistance coil which was burning out without producing any blaze. The loss was $10.

HAD TO LISTEN TO SAME FIVE TUNES FOR TWO YEARS

Werremeyer Sympathizes With Man Sued Over Piano Dealer and Gives Him Judgment.

Justice Werremeyer of Clayton believes that a man who is compelled to listen to the same five tunes played two years by an electric piano is an injured person and entitled to financial compensation. He said so Tuesday in finding against C. P. Pfaff and R. P. Thebus of St. Louis in their suit on notes against Herman Zimmermann, proprietor of the Twelve-Mile House, on the Olive Street road. He denied their claim for $200 and gave Zimmermann $50 on a counter-claim for $156.

Zimmermann bought an electric piano June 17, 1910, for his saloon from the International Electric Piano Co., of which Pfaff and Thebus were officers. The agreed price was $357 and Zimmermann paid $175 down and gave four notes for $50 each for the balance.

Had Only Five Tunes.

Zimmermann said he got two music rolls, each containing five selections, with the understanding that they were to be exchanged for new rolls at staed intervals. He exchanged the rolls once, to be exchanged for new rolls at stated time he went to the company's office. On his third visit, he declared, he found the office vacant and the company out of business. That was in July, 1910, and from that time on, he said, his piano played the same five tunes, with the result that customers were driven from his place and he was made almost frantic by the unvarying repetition.

Pfaff and Thebus bought the notes from the company and sued to collect. Justice Werremeyer took the case under advisement April 5 and went to Zimmermann's to hear the despised music.

The piano which had been turned to the wall and covered with a tarpaulin, was turned around and five nickels dropped into the slot. The result, Werremeyer said, was: "The Glow-Worm," "Wedding of the Winds," "Your Best Friend Is Your Mother," 'Popularity March," and "Annie Laurie." Whistling "Nix on the Glow-Worm," the Judge drove back to Clayton with his mind made up in Zimmermann's favor.

Many a heart throb of happiness has resulted from the return of lost articles through the Post-Dispatch Lost and Found wants.

FIGHT AFTER DANCE IN UNIVERSITY CITY

A free-for-all fight on the Olive street road, in University City, it developed Monday, was the sequel to a dance given Saturday night, for the benefit of William, alias "Cotton," Crawford and Eugene Marks, who are held in the Clayton Jail pending trial for the fatal shooting of Lawrence Duvall, last November.

The dance ended at 2 a. m. Sunday.

An altercation arose among a group of young men who had been at the dance, as they were going home along the Olive street road, two miles east of Roth's Grove. Fists, clubs, stones and other weapons were being used freely, when Policemen Ward and Walsh routed the band, arresting nine men, who were fined $1 and costs each in Judge Lamb's court in University City, Monday.

About the only Food you eat that hasn't Gone Up in Price

YOU know how much more you have to pay now for every-day foods than you paid a few years ago. Meat, flour, sugar, milk, eggs and similar items continue to go higher and higher.

Karo syrup is the one great staple food that hasn't increased in price.

Karo is made from corn, and corn has gone way up. But the vast increase in Karo sales makes it possible to continue Karo at the old low price.

As food prices go now, in proportion to cost Karo gives more than three and four times the energy of many foods on the daily bill of fare.

Karo is wonderfully nourishing. It is rich in one of the nutritive food elements you get in corn bread, hominy, Indian pudding and other famous corn foods.

Karo is one of the most nutritious parts of sound, ripe corn kernels made into delicious syrup. It is fine on bread, griddle cakes, waffles and hot biscuit.

Karo is as delicious as honey—as wholesome as butter—yet costs you much less than either.

Wherever sweetening is needed in cooking you'll find Karo useful.

Why not try Karo to-day? Your grocer has two kinds—Karo Crystal White, Karo Cane Flavor. You can readily tell the Karo label on the sealed cans.

PUBLIC OPINION CONTROLS.

The smashing of Lorimer by the Republican voters of Illinois has had a salutary effect on the United States Senate. The complete demolition of the Lorimer machine with the overwhelming defeat of every candidate tainted with Lorimerism has given the Senators who have supported Lorimer a new view of the case. Senator Cullom's statement that his defeat was due to his Lorimer vote has made these Senators think. They realize now the nature and the voice of public opinion on the case.

News from Washington indicates the unseating of Senator Lorimer. The evidence that the people will not stand for the jack-pot method of electing United States Senators has convinced the Lorimer supporters that it is unsafe to indorse it by their votes. They are wise. There can be no doubt that the Illinois vote is a fair index of public sentiment and that Senators who support jackpotism will be called to account.

The effect of the state primaries that have been held during the pending presidential campaign is instructive. They supply indubitable proof of the power of public opinion. Although the votes have had a direct bearing only on presidential contests, candidacies for state and local offices and party organizations, they have profoundly affected every branch of government. They promise to determine the action of the national conventions and strongly influence national party policies and methods.

The popular primaries demonstrate that the people can control the Government without resorting to revolutionary changes. They can make the Government thoroughly representative by expressing their will at the polls and enforcing it on their party organizations.

The only thing necessary to restore popular control of Government is the restoration of popular control of parties through effective primary laws which will enable the people to determine party nominations and party actions.

STEEL TRUST SEES THE LIGHT.

The moral force of publicity is attested in the report of a committee of Steel Trust stockholders which has been investigating the condition of labor in the corporation's plants. The conclusion reached as to the seven-day work week is that "from a physical or moral point of view" it is "detrimental to those engaged in it." The conclusion reached as to the 12-hour workday is that it "means the decreasing of efficiency and lessening of the vigor and virility of the men." No hostile critic of Steel Trust industrial policies has been more severe on its inhuman system.

The facts, after the currency given them through the investigation conducted by the Post-Dispatch and New York World, could not be ignored, and, with the facts admitted, the conclusions were inevitable. The sentiment created by this publicity is given eloquent tribute in the eagerness with which, at the annual meeting of the United States Steel Corporation, the investigating committeemen urged the immediate substitution of the six-day workweek and the eight-hour workday.

RESPECT AND RESPECT.

Congressman McKinley declaims about the Taft respect for the dignity of the presidency. Perhaps he will inform the public on how many days since March 4, 1909, Mr. Taft has been at his desk in Washington.

The people of the United States have quite as wholesome a respect for the chief magistracy as exists in the mind of President Taft. In fact, they entertain such high respect for it that they believe the man fortunate enough to be entrusted by his fellow-citizens with the dignity of this high office should devote his entire time and ability to administering it.

Not the least cause of President Taft's failure to get and hold popular confidence has been his predilection for pleasure rather than the cares of the executive office, and the careless fashion in which he has slighted his duty to the people by continually absenting himself from Washington, when grave matters of state demanded his attention.

GREATEST OF OCEAN DISASTERS.

The sinking of the $10,000,000 Titanic, largest steamship ever built, with a loss of more than 1300 lives, is the world's most appalling disaster of the high seas. Nothing approaches it. The loss ofthe Bourgogne in 1898 with 571 lives is small by comparison, yet, up to the accident to the White Star liner on her maiden voyage yesterday it topped the record of merchant marine catastrophes.

From all information available, it appears that the ill-fated Titanic encountered unusual conditions. The ice-pack was heavier and extended farther south than ever before. The great ship's 60,000 tons were hurled with vast force upon an immovable iceberg. Stout as she was, and equipped with every known device to make her unsinkable, she suffered fatal damage. Human skill and human wisdom surrendered to the unforeseen and unavoidable.

Such are the facts, as they appear now. Only exhaustive inquiry and the testimony of survivors can establish the details of that terrible midnight death-struggle of the gigantic steamship among the flotilla of icebergs that shattered her steel plates and sent the floating palace and her freight of more than 1300 precious lives plunging to the ocean floor, two miles below.

The great bulk and weight of the Titanic were a safeguard against the sea and in collision with other ships. That same bulk and weight coupled with her speed, dashed her upon the ice with fatal force. There are dangers against which the highest skill of the shipbuilder cannot guard. The Titanic seems to have encountered one of them.

But there is one splendid feature of the disaster which is eloquent of superb courtesy and heroic manhood—the women and children were saved.

OUR LITERARY LID CLUBS.

Under the impression that it was a literary society, two young girls were lured to the John Ruskin Club, a St. Louis "lid" organization. This should give encouragement and an idea to our liddists. Not every girl of 16 knows about Ruskin and his works, but most of them at that tender age may be assumed to know something of poets.

Why not have a Percy Shelley Lid Club, a Longfellow Lid Club, or even an Ella Wheeler Wilcox Lid Club? Surely the latter would appeal almost as strongly to the susceptible as would a Lord Byron Lid Club. A Francois Villon Lid Club ought to be a mighty money-maker. No doubt a Shakspeare Lid Club would attract a somewhat higher class of patronage, while a Walt Whitman Lid Club would appeal to all the teamsters and deckhands whom the Camden seer admired so much.

For the humorously inclined, a Mark Twain Lid Club is suggested. For the very high-flyers why not a Nietzsche Lid Club? And, for the local literary cult, a William Marion Reedy Lid Club could be counted upon to accelerate the distribution of sparkling literary stimulants of the Reedy school. By all means, let us improve the literary tone of the lid clubs if we cannot eliminate them.

PEARSONS' WORK COMPLETED.

When D. K. Pearsons announces on his ninety-second birthday that he has completed the work of giving away all his money for improving education, he says he is "broke, but happy."

It is explained that after giving away more than $6,000,000, he is living on a small annuity under an agreement that interest at the regular rate shall be paid him during his lifetime on one of his gifts. While this gives him enough to live on, he is no longer capitalized. As far as capitalization is concerned, he has a right to say that he is "broke" and also that he is happy.

His right to happiness is proven by the fact that he has not been distributing the first mortgage bonds of the Capt. Kidd Industrial Co. or Blackbeard Consolidated Sixes, to secure a mortgage on educators, ecclesiastics and others on whose moral natures a mortgage is supposed to be necessary in order to make philanthropy Systematic. As, in this respect, he differs from Systematic philanthropists, he has no accomplices but has many beneficiaries who can wish him all the happiness possible when he is actually "broke" at ninety-two.

MUNICIPAL ASSEMBLY PROGRAM.

The program of the Municipal Assembly for the new session beginning today is the unfinished business of its blameworthy do-nothing session just past. In the list of subjects for legislation these, of course, precede all others:

Completion of the Free Bridge.
Separation of grades.

In a community unacquainted with the facts, the actual record of the city in dealing with the free bridge would seem a burlesque on municipal incapacity. The public is left without tolerance for further exhibitions of maladministration and delay. It demands action. To override the obstructionists and make immediate provision for building the East Side approach is an urgent duty that must not be evaded on the resumption of work by the Assembly.

Slaughter of St. Louisans at grade crossings must also be checked as soon as plans can be perfected and that work accomplished.

Further matters on which a continuation of the do-nothing policy will make the record of the new session unsatisfactory and incomplete are these:

Provision for an ample water supply.
Establishment of a zoo.

Park improvements possible at moderate cost and contributing to the pleasure and comfort of the people—golf links, swimming pools, iced drinking water, etc.

Legislation promoting public welfare effort, preferably to be combined under the supervision of one comprehensive city department.

How largely civic discussions in St. Louis during the past year have centered about measures for protecting the inexperienced from unwholesome influences and reclaiming the delinquent is perhaps not appreciated by the Assembly. The municipality is urged to provide shelter for homeless men in severe weather, to find work for unemployed men, to supervise amusements, including dance halls, poolrooms and picture shows.

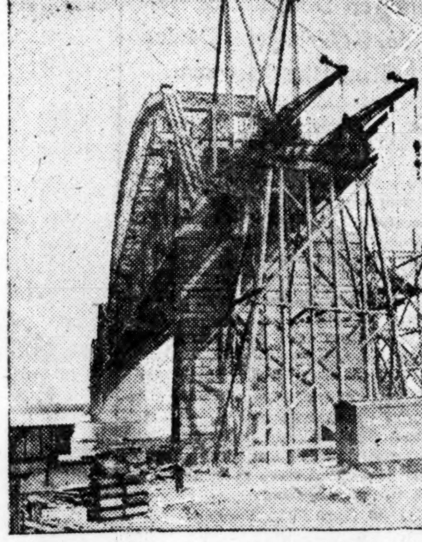
THE UNFINISHED FREE BRIDGE.



This is a picture of the Free Bridge nearly six years after the people of St. Louis voted bonds for its construction.

The work of construction was commenced more than two years ago.

The bridge proper is practically completed, but it has no approaches.

The approaches cannot be built and the bridge put into commission until the Municipal Assembly decides the question of the location of the East Side railroad approach.

The city is paying $350 a day for interest on the Free Bridge bond issue. This outlay will continue, without return, until the bridge is completed.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Usefulness of Triple A.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The writer is fairly well acquainted with the athletic conditions in New York, Chicago, Boston, as well as St. Louis, and while I approve heartily of a free golf links and athletic field, it is ridiculous for the city to consider for one moment taking over the Triple A. In the first place, the golf links at the Triple A, while kept in very good condition, are really a burlesque on what may be termed a golf course. They have for years been supplying golf to the members at a price which no club in the country can compete with. It is impossible for them to make one cent profit on their golf fee, which is $5 a year. The Triple A has also been the means of supplying a great many members to other clubs; in fact, if I am not mistaken, the Normandie and Midland Valley Clubs were originally organized by members of the Triple A who wanted to play golf along the lines which golf should be played.

As far as tennis is concerned, the clay courts at the Triple A are conceded by experts to be equal to any in the United States. The man in charge of these grounds, Mr. Thomas Aitken, is recognized as one of the best ground-keepers in the United States, and considering the conditions he has to comply with, has secured wonderful results.

If the city of St. Louis is prepared to furnish an 18-hole golf course and 100 tennis courts as well as 40 baseball diamonds, then it is time for them to think of taking away the privileges which are accorded the members of the Triple A, but if they think for one moment that it would be possible for them to oust the Triple A from Forest Park and then throw what little accommodations they have open to the public, it is ridiculous.

G. WILSON BROWN.

Cost of Living.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The street cleaners are not the only half-clad and poorly paid people of this city. Some highly cultured families have been without food and clothes this winter, so severe for all poorly paid men and women.

Look at the clerks and draughtsmen and young girls who work in office and factory. How can they live? Draughtsmen and clerks receiving the pitiful sum of $50 and $60 a month. Many have families to support, some widowed mothers, helpless sisters to support. How can they live with living so high? Young girls get $3 to $4 a week. They, too, have, families to support and out of that their car fare comes.

A WIDOWED MOTHER.

Educate the Voter.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

This talk about increasing the voting strength by means of woman's suffrage is premature. We have too many voters now. There ought to be educational and social qualifications required of every voter. What right has the ignorant bum and loafer and the criminal law breaker to put his vote against the decent citizen? What right has this element to vote against a taxpayer voting on a bond issue where a question of taxation is involved? He has none. Yet these are the men that are sought and catered to by the politicians. The balance of power is frequently wielded by this element in our elections which if restricted by penalty of disfranchisement, the shyster politician would be out of a job.

This talk will be characterized as that of a fanatic by some champion of pure democracy, (which is a failure so far), but let us purify our male voter and then it will be time enough to take on the female. Pure ballots, honestly counted, and proper men in office, overshadow all other questions.

STARLING.

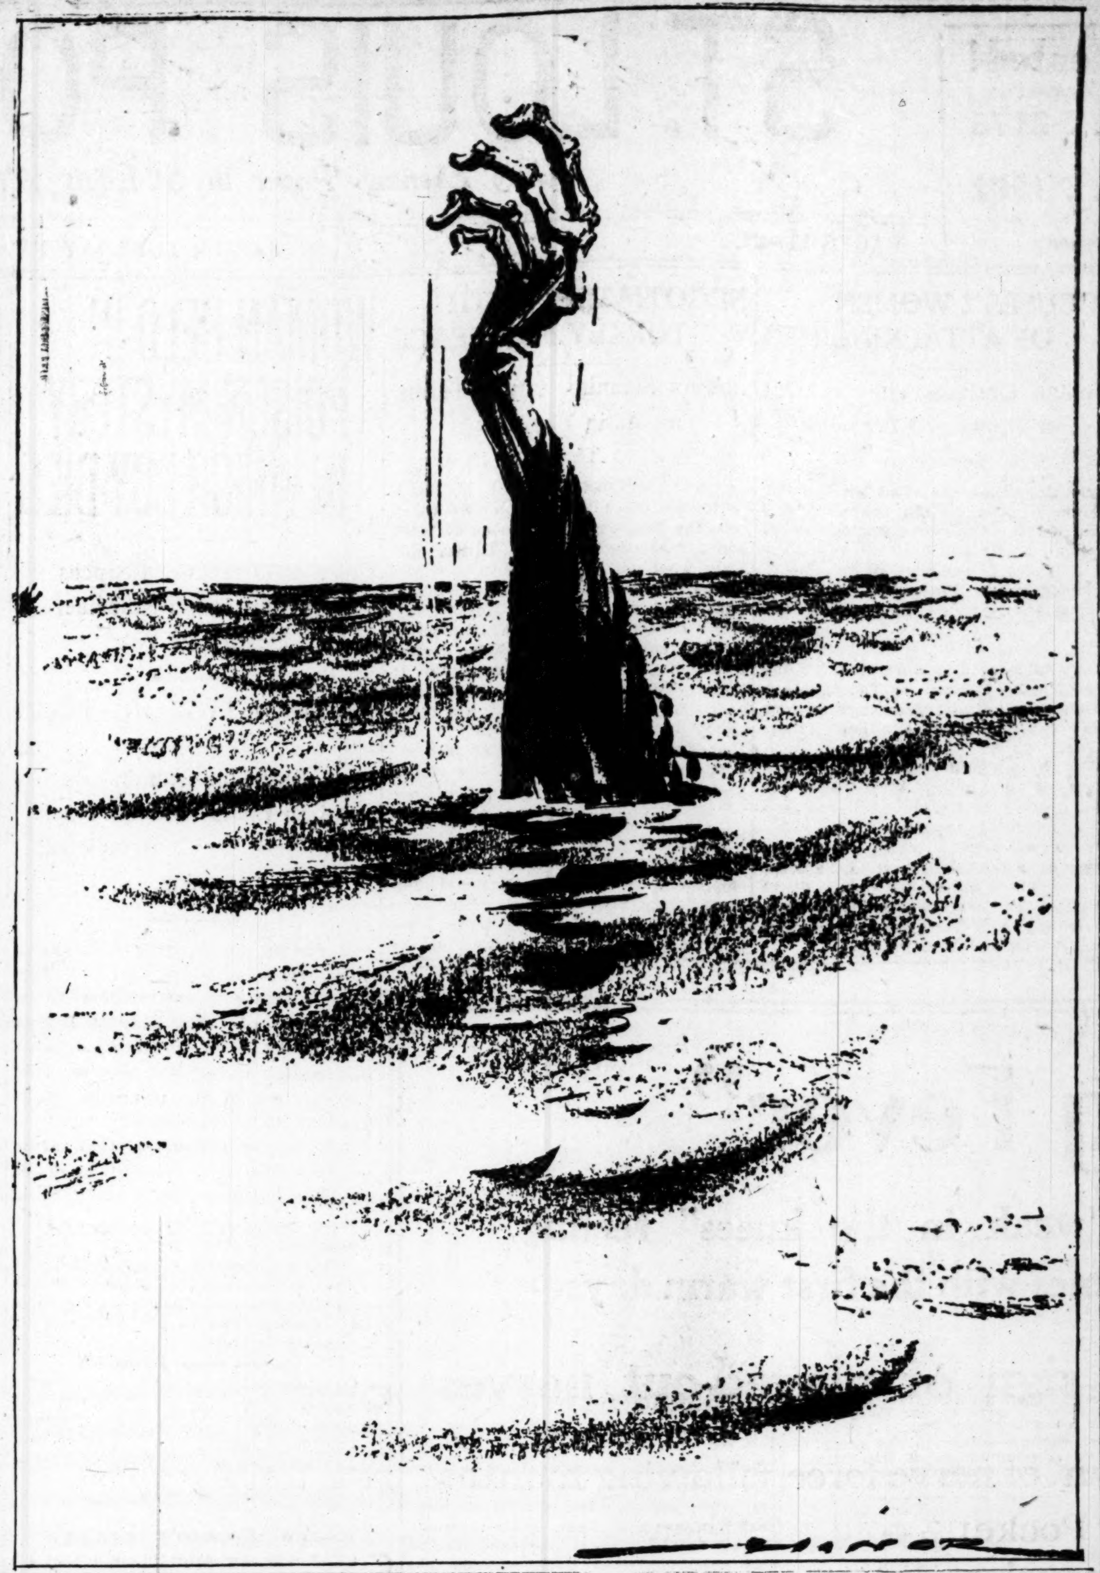
Select a Bridge Approach.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Since House of Delegates and Council cannot select from their own bodies a committee willing to do something toward selecting an east approach to the Free Bridge, I would suggest that the presidents of the following organizations appoint high-minded unselfish men, willing to serve without pay, to select said approach and a majority of these seven recommend an approach to our lawmakers within 30 days from their appointment: Merchants Exchange, 2; Business Men's League, 2; Manufacturers' Association, 1; Stock Exchange, 1; Cotton Exchange, 1.

MARY'S LITTLE LAMB.

THE RECORD BREAKER.



VIVISECTIONAL.

From the Joplin Globe.

In England what is known as a Royal Commission has had under consideration for four years the grievances and petitions of various anti-vivsectionist societies. Now, in its leisurely arrived at report the Royal Commission finds that the charges preferred were trivial, and that many of the witnesses to alleged deeds of wanton cruelty had been badly informed.

A genuine affection for the animal kingdom is a normal attribute. A paraded sentimentality is an affectation. The individual who sighs at the fallen quail eats a lamb chop without a reproving whisper from his conscience. Yet in all the inevitable blood-letting is there anything more cruel than the slaughter of the lamb?

THE HOMSTEAD LAW.

From the Denver Times.

The passage of the three-year homestead bill by Congress means much for Colorado. The reduction of the term of residence on homestead lands from five to three years, with the privilege granted the entryman of absenting himself from the land five months during each of the three years required to establish title, will render homesteading so much easier than under the former stringent regulations that Colorado may reasonably look forward to a gratifying influx of the very kind of people she needs most—the farmers. There is room for 75,000 families on Colorado's 12,000,000 acres of vacant productive area.

THE SOUTH PACIFIC.

From Cassier's Magazine.

Without doubt, the opening of the Panama Canal will mean for the 8000 miles of coast from the Mexican California boundary to the Strait of Magellan, forming the Pacific Coast line of Latin America and including 12 countries, the same kind of development which the Pacific Coast States of the United States experienced following the construction of the first transcontinental railroad. A conservative estimate indicates the growth in this commerce within two years to more than $1,000,000,000.

From the Chicago Tribune.

THE RIGHT SPIRIT.

From the Ohio State Journal.

A man can do very little good who is not controlled by the right spirit. He must be under the influence of a kind and generous disposition. You cannot hate a person into a good thing. You cannot convince him by despising him. As soon as one gets mad and rantankerous it's all up with his mission. There is no such thing as indoctrinating a man with a noble faith by going after him with a sharp stick.

Sometimes we see men who think they are good, doing things in an evil spirit—getting mad because their own opinions are crossed at some point. We don't know any truer test of a man's real character than this. The idea of a Christian man or woman trying to achieve some good end in a malign spirit—why, in the nature of things, it is impossible. The prayer of the psalmist should be in all men's hearts all the time: "Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me." The two go together every time.

STONE FOR TEETH.

From Harper's Weekly.

Upon the rocky coast of Normandy between Havre and Dieppe are to be seen numbers of men and boys of all ages walking slowly up and down the shore and occasionally picking up a pebble and placing it carefully in sacks which they carry. When these sacks are filled they are carried to a foreman, who examines the pebbles carefully and pays the collector.

The pebbles gathered are not very abundant, but the constant washing of the shore produces more each day, and the work goes on, while the business—for it really is quite an industry—seems to pay those engaged in it.

These small stones or pebbles are shipped across the sea to the United States, where they are reduced to a fine powder, which is afterward converted into a very fine grade of porcelain, from which many of the best false teeth are made.

Not the House.

From Lippincott's.

Representative X., from North Carolina, was one night awakened by his wife, who whispered: "John, John, get up! There are robbers in the house." "Robbers?" he said. "There may be robbers in the Senate, Mary; but not in the House; it's preposterous!"

From the Boston Transcript.

MINIMUM WAGE LAWS.

From the Boston Herald.

The objections to the minimum wage idea are many and serious. It ignores the principle of the family unit, and of family earnings in relation to family outgo as the basis of our economic system. The widow with two children might altogether earn a comfortable support, whereas under such a law profitable work might only be found at legal wages for the first named. Their last condition would be worse than the first. The community has a choice, with certain industries, whether to conduct them at a very low rate of return or not at all. This is true alike of capital and of labor. The blueberries of summer would not be marketable if they had to be picked by men on a plumbers' union schedule. Here is a principle of wide application and diverse ramification.

LET'S GO A-FISHING.

From the New York Sun.

Even for the weary, the reactionary, the wicked there is consolation. Though a nation be flooded knee deep with politics and the rivers of oratory, as turgid as the Great Muddy, demand the attention of voters and obtain it not, there is solace. For the fact, the great transcendent, the one significant fact is that the fish are biting.

Wherefore let the oldest boy, faithful to his earliest instinct, wrap himself a luncheon in the unread newspaper, gather into capacious pockets the worms that he can rescue from a flooded back yard, take his pole from the rack behind the fireplace and fare forth.

EASY MONEY.

From the Buffalo Express.

A New York tailor who made dresses for New York's 400 has left an income of $50,000 a year to her daughter. Well, someone has got to have that easy money.

Pride.

From the Yonkers Statesman.

His Reason.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

BEAUTY CULTURE.

JUNE.—You might try Gowland's lotion or a dermatologist for the scar.

E. M.—Erect carriage, low corset; gain flesh all over body; then bust enlarges naturally. Some apply cold douches every morning; others practice deep breathing.

CONSTANT.—Sage tea is said to be a hair grower that will darken hair slightly. It should not be used on blond locks. Make a strong brew of the dried leaves, strain the liquid carefully through muslin and to each pint add two tablespoons alcohol. Rub this on scalp every night, using finger tips or small, clean brush.

CLEANSING.

GANNIDY.—For removing all sorts of spots from tan raincoats: Take a cup or small vessel of gasoline, then dip a piece of cloth into it and apply to each spot two or three times. If gasoline becomes dirty, take more and go over soiled places again; shake out well and hang in air. (See physician about thirst.)

MUMPS.—Carved ivory ornaments, toilet accessories, paper knives, etc., can be cleaned as follows: Make a paste of sawdust slightly moistened with water and lemon juice. Spread the paste on the ivory and allow it to dry thoroughly, then brush it off carefully with a soft brush. Smooth ivory-backed brushes, etc., are best cleaned with a small piece of clean flannel damped and dipped in table salt.

HOUSEHOLD HELPS.

MISER.—Sandpaper might clean your soiled plastered wall.

READER. — Dandelion wine—a good homemade tonic: Measure 8 quarts dandelion flowers (gathered on dry day), pressing hard into the measure so as to have enough to give the wine a wholesome bitter. Pour over the flowers 4 gallons boiling water and let stand over night. Next day boil 15 or 25 minutes, add 3 pounds sugar, 1 orange and 1 lemon sliced, and boil a few minutes longer. Take from fire and when cooled to lukewarm add 1 yeast cake which has been softened in a little of the water. When quite through working, bottle and keep in a cool place. Rhubarb wine: Crushed rhubarb, 12 pounds; 2 gallons water, 8 pounds granulated sugar. Place the crushed rhubarb and water in large stone jar; cover and let stand in cool place a week, stirring frequently. Then strain and add the sugar. Place the mixture in the jar and let stand until fermentation ceases. Strain into keg, bung tightly and keep 9 months. Then bottle.

LAW POINTS.

THOMAS.—All assignments of wages, salaries and earnings, not earned at the time assignment is made, are null and void.

MRS. F. L. N.—In Illinois or Missouri, girl of 18 is of age and can leave home or do anything else that she pleases, wise or unwise.

F. M. S.—In Missouri divorcee may marry at once. Take care, however, that the Judge shall not hear of your haste and annul your divorce.

H. H. H.—To lawfully carry a weapon concealed, all the way to Denver, would perhaps require permit from each state you enter; and it may be that permits are not issued; we don't know all the state laws.

M. J. S.—Do not marry any man on the supposition that you can easily get a divorce. Many divorces are refused. If husband deserting you and refusing to support you goes to another state you have to pay the expense of bringing him back.

PUZZLED.—Lying about names does not make marriage less binding.

R. F.—Whether the 8 surviving parties to deed can claim the interest of the 2 other parties named therein, and now dead, to the exclusion of their widows, depends upon exact wording of deed of conveyance; if their interest vests in survivors, thereby no further formality is necessary, as the deed duly recorded is proof enough.

HEALTH NOTES.

W. J. L.—For broad, fleshy nose: 1½ ounces orange flower water, 1 ounce glycerin, ½ dram muriate ammonia and ¼ dram tannic acid; wet piece of absorbent cotton in this and bind on nose at night. Keep a bottle of the following at hand and during the day bathe nose frequently: Three ounces mallow water, 3 grains benzoate soda, 10 grains glycerin and 5 of alcohol.

MISCELLANEOUS.

JIGGERS.—Postage to France, [illegible] cents for first ounce, 8 for each additional.

TAXPAYER.—Phone Assessor of Water Rates, city hall phone, in regard to meter.

KITTY COBB.—Beginners in photo-engraving are paid $5 a week; $11 after 5 years; experts, $25 to $35 or more.

C. G. L.—Write The Magazine Maker, 55 Irving place, New York, for information as to writing short stories. Or see Anita Moore, 3921 McPherson avenue.

IGNORANT.—For serial number write Pure Food and Drugs Commission, Washington, D. C. For patent information write Patent Office; copyright, Librarian of Congress.

ST. L. U.—Epes Sargent wrote "The Martyr of the Arena." It is a recitation which you will find in Choice Selections No. 21 and in the New Popular Speaker and the Young People's Speaker.

MOTORCYCLE.—If the policeman exceeds his authority or did aught that was unbecoming an officer, report all the facts to the Chief or to the Police Commissioners, with all the evidence you have.

LOUIS.—To cut glass jars, fill the jar with lard oil to where you want to cut the jar; then heat an iron rod or bar to red heat, immerse it in the oil; the unequal expansion will crack the jar all round at the surface of the oil, and you can lift off the top part.—Sons' Workshop Receipts.

R. A. B.—Cole County vote, D. and R., 1894: Judge Supreme Court, Black, D., 1834; Robinson, R., 1791. State Superintendent of Schools, Carrington, D., 1841; Kirk, R., 1799. Railroad and Warehouse Commissioner, Finks, D., 1842; Flory, R., 1808. Vernon County: Black 2994, Robinson 1870, Carrington 3001, Kirk 1880, Finks 2989, Flory 1895.

TOO LAZY TO SIGN INITIALS.—As to "whether Grant was a blond," this statement may enlighten you: "In March, 1864, a 'little blue-eyed rusty man,' with rough, light brown whiskers,' wearing an old army hat and a linen duster, walked into a Washington hotel, leading a boy by the hand, and asked for a room. The clerk did not know him, and assigned him to one on the top floor." The little man was Gen. Grant.

COTTAGE.—In many places the great wall of China has crumbled so that a horseman may ride over it easily. At one time it marked the northern boundary of the empire, but now it extends almost through its center. It begins at the sea east of Pekin, and extends westward south of that city. No available authorities state that the wall is being repaired or has been repaired, for centuries. One writer says: This wonderful construction makes the pyramids look like mere isolated heaps of building-stone to the person whose eyes have beheld both.

CLOVER LEAF.—Biographers of Billie Burke make no mention of her height, weight or religion—a kind of facts for which biographers do not seem to care a Lincoln cent. Billie was born in Washington, D. C., Aug. 7, 1886. William and Blanche Burke, actors, were her parents. She motors, cycles and rides. She looks to be a fraction more than 5 feet high. Not married. Is playing at Hollis Street Theater, Boston. In 1906 she resided in London. Her present address is Empire Theater Building, New York. She was educated in schools in France and England.

The Whirlwind of Fate

By GILBERT HINK.

The Daily Short Story for Post-Dispatch Readers

"THE GREAT REFUSAL," by Elizabeth Bertram Fawns, had just been refused; "The Declination of Ephraim," by Harlan Bates, had been declined, and "The Doom of David," by Ella Emmons Potts, was doomed.

The chief rejecter of the Monitor Magazine was earning his salary and exercising his infallible judgment in the choice of stories. He accepted every 216th offering.

He opened the 215th manuscript at peace with the world and with the love of mankind in his heart. Perhaps if this 215th manuscript had the semblance of merit he would accept it instead of the 216th, thus proving that merit alone influenced his choice of current fiction for the readers—a million copies monthly—of the Monitor.

He half promised himself that he would accept the 215th story just to prove that the milk of human kindness had not been chalked up as missing in his breast. He opened the long envelope with a thrust of an old brass column rule, which had outlived its usefulness in the composing rooms.

The rejecter drew forth the folded manuscript and read in the upper right-hand corner of the first page (as per instructions in notes of regret from many magazines), the title of the story, the number of words and the name of the writer:

"The Whirlwind of Fate—3500 words—Dawson Folkes Hermstone."

The rejecter began reading the opening phrases.

Just then a gentle breeze, the kind that makes paper-weights an absolute necessity in 10-story buildings, struck the opening pages of "The Whirlwind of Fate," and wafted them gently out of the neatly manicured finger of the rejecter, through the open window and out into the open air, beyond the editorial rooms of the Monitor Magazine.

"Ah! well, perhaps it's best," sighed the rejecter, tossing the 216th manuscript in with the sheep and what was left of No. 215 in with the myriad of goats.

"Perhaps that little whiff of April wind kept me from warping my literary judgment," facetiously remarked the rejecter to himself as he began counting out the next 216 manuscripts.

But the story does not end here.

The opening page of "The Whirlwind of Fate" that a chance breeze had wafted from the window bears further interest. Without assuming any of the characteristics of winged gods or soap that floats, let us follow this tender sprout of contemporaneous authorship as it drifts.

Emmet Snowdon, black, aged 33, single—(I quote from hospital records)—was cleaning windows on the fourth floor of the Monitor Building. He looked up from his work of letting in the light and caught a glimpse of a bit of paper floating ever so gently down from the upper air. It was slightly beyond his solicitous grasp, but he leaned back to catch it as it fell. I quote herein from the annals of the press:

> Emmet Snowdon, a window cleaner, fell from the fourth story of the Monitor Building, Thursday morning, and in his precipitous drop to the sidewalk below fell upon Officer O'Donnell of the ——th station. Snowdon sustained a broken leg and Officer O'Donnell a fracture of the skull. Both were taken to the White Sister's Hospital. They will recover.

The opening page of "The Whirlwind of Fate" evaded the clutch of the ill-fate window-cleaner and was taken in tow by an uprising wind that lifted it far above the tiles of the city's roofs and carried it gently down along the aristocratic surface of Avenue Y.

The Van Courtney maid and the Van Courtney coachman in the costly Van Courtney equipage were taking the Van Courtney poodle for the morning airing. "The Whirlwind of Fate" was wafted before the patrician nostril of the Van Courtney bays. I quote again from the press:

> The splendid $10,000 Van Courtney team of bays ran away along Avenue Y Thursday morning. Mlle. Antoi, the maid, was thrown from the carriage and severely hurt. Robert Antwerp, the coachman, sustained a broken leg, when the carriage crashed into an obstruction. The injured occupants of the carriage were taken to the White Sister's Hospital.

Another caprice of April caught "The Whirlwind of Fate" and swept it high above the aristocratic thoroughfare again. Long and far above the city was carried this offering to current literature.

Over in the solid residential section of the city, Herbert Coates, aged 12, was proud in the possession of a new target rifle, presented by his father that morning on the occasion of the youngster's twelfth birthday. From the portico of the Coates residence, the young marksman saw, drifting down from the soft April skies, a fluttering square of white. He hurriedly rammed a cartridge into the new rifle and fired at the fast descending page. The press said:

> Martha McConnell, a domestic employed in the household of Dr. F. G. Schuyler, was shot by some unknown person, Thursday morning. The bullet, from a small target rifle, entered the woman's left cheek, causing a very serious wound. The police, called to investigate, advance the theory that the woman was the victim of the accidental discharge of a rifle in that immediate neighborhood. The woman was taken to the White Sister's Hospital for treatment.

The chief rejecter of the Monitor Magazine, tired by the arduous task of selecting short stories at the ratio of 215 to 1, walked slowly homeward at the close of a pleasant April day.

At the edge of a carefully attended lawn, the toe of his shoe brushed forth a page of white. Through curiosity he packed up the square that had dared deface the shining surface of his shoe.

"The opening page of the ill-fated, gallant 215th, as I live," exclaimed the rejecter. "Well, how in the world did that get away out here"

And then he read the title half aloud: "The Whirlwind of Fate."

"What a hackneyed theme," he commented, idly.

Then, as if his curiosity had been piqued by the odd rescue of the missing page, he read the opening sentence:

> This is a story of peace; of the quietude of country lanes and rural scenes, where not a breath of vagrant winds shall come to mar the peaceful serenity of the day.

"Not enough action in the story"—was the condemnation of the critic.

Familiar Facts Explained for Readers of the Post-Dispatch.

HERE are the explanations of five natural phenomena which, it is safe to say, the average person does not know. If you doubt this, ask your friends when you have read the following:

1. A COUGH is caused by the irritation of certain nerves. This causes the following involuntary actions: First, the breath is drawn in. Then the vocal cords contract and close the upper part of the windpipe, shutting in the air. The abdominal muscles push the various organs upward against the diaphragm and throw such pressure on the air in the lungs that the closed windpipe and contracted vocal cords are noisily burst open by the expulsion of the breath.

2. BLACK HAIR is due to excess of iron in its composition. Red hair is due to an excess of sulphur. Curly hair is flat in shape. Straight hair is round. The only parts of the body that are absolutely hairless are the palms of the hands and the soles of the feet.

3. HICCOUGHS: A slight irritation of the stomach's nerves induces a sudden motion of the diaphragm. This causes a quick inrush of air, that vibrates the vocal cords and produces the sound known as "hiccoughing."

4. WINKS: An oval muscle just under the skin of the eyelid contracts spasmodically several times each minute, drawing the eyelids together in what is known as the wink. The lachrymal gland in the eye is constantly giving forth moisture. The wink spreads this necessary moisture over the whole surface of the eye.

5. DEW: The cooling of the earth after sunset makes the air above it turn cool and causes the condensing of the atmosphere into what is known as dew. On nights that are both cloudy and windy there is no dew.

HERE is another set of five simple questions. Can you answer them? Ask the man at the next desk how many of them he can answer. The replies will appear later on this page. Watch for them.

6. What is "hearing?"

7. What is color blindness? (It is not merely the mistaking of one color for another.)

8. What makes you "see stars" when your eye is struck?

9. What causes sighing and yawning?

10. Why are some people bald when others are not?

CHEF DIETZ'S RECIPES FOR CHOICE DISHES.

Seventh Group of Suggestions by an Expert for the Aid of Post-Dispatch Women Readers

SUPREME OF MILKFED CHICKEN With Fresh Mushrooms for Six Persons.

HENRY DIETZ,
Chef of Faust's.

CUT out the breasts of three 2-lb. milk-fed chickens, retain the wingbone, which should be trimmed and scraped and left just long enough to hold a shop-frill. With a small sharp and pointed knife make an insertion near the wingbone, cutting a pocket into the chicken breast. Care must be taken by not cutting to close to the edge. Then make a forcemeat of goose liver, truffles, sherry wine, cream, raw yolk of an egg, salt and pepper. Take either one-half pound of fatted goose liver and fry, or use preserved goose livers, sold in terrines, and pound in a mortar until pasty. Add one-fourth of a cup of boiled cream, one raw yolk of egg, a little sherry wine, salt and pepper to taste, pound and mix into a soft mush, and press through a wire hair sieve and mix paste with a few finely chopped truffles. Take a small pastry bag, insert a small round tube, fill with paste, place tube in pocket in breast of chicken and stuff breast by pressing the bag; then lard the top of breast with a few pieces of larding pork. Put the breast into a buttered casserole, sprinkle over salt and butter and braise with vegetables and spices for 15 minutes. Cook for each breast three medium size fresh mushrooms; stew in Madeira sauce and add a few slices of truffles. Lay a slice of fresh toast, buttered, in a Newburg dish, chicken on top; then fresh mushrooms and your truffle sauce over all. Attach a chop frill to wing bone and serve.

GUINEA CHICKEN (Faust Special.)

PREPARE Guinea chickens as for frying; cut in quarters and lard them. Partly broil and finish with pan gravy. For each half chicken broil three to four fresh mushrooms and one slice of Virginia ham. Put a piece of fresh toast, buttered, and cut round in a Newburg dish; then the broiled Virginia ham, and the Guinea chicken on the ham; then the fresh mushrooms. Finish gravy with a few drops of lemon juice, sherry wine, chopped parsley and salt and pepper to suit taste. Pour sauce over and cover with a glass bell. Put in a hot oven for a few minutes and serve with fried hominy.

FRESH ARTICHOKES.

TRIM stalks and outside leaves and wash artichokes; tie up tight in pieces of cotton cloth (this is to prevent leaves from falling apart while boiling); boil in plenty of water to which add some lemon juice and a pinch of baking soda; boil until tender (about 40 or 50 minutes.) When done, untie bags, partly open up the center leaves and with a spoon remove fibrous substance (called choke.) Serve on napkin with butter or Hollandaise sauce on side.

If artichokes are to be served as a salad, let them get cold before removing choke. Serve with French dressing or vinaigrette.

SIRLOIN STEAK A LA MINUTE

CUT sirloin steaks of native loins one-fourth of an inch thick; season with salt and pepper; fry in butter over quick fire on each side just for a minute. Make a pan gravy with beef extract and chopped parsley. Serve with diced French fried potatoes.

STUFFED ARTICHOKE BOTTOMS.

TAKE a sufficient quantity of preserved or fresh bottoms, fill with chicken forcemeat or fresh mushroom d'uxelle. Put them into a saucepan with a little butter, and place them in the oven to poach the forcemeat or bake the d'uxelle. Take them out, arrange on a dish and serve with a little beef extract poured over them.

COMBINATION CLUB SANDWICH

TOAST two slices of sandwich bread, butter sides on one, lay a leaf of lettuce, sliced breast of chicken or roast turkey; sprinkle over salt and pepper; then add 3 strips of fresh broiled bacon; two thin slices dill pickle, another leaf of lettuce, a little more salt and cover with the other slice of toast; trim sandwich and cut in triangle shape. Mayonnaise may be substituted for butter, but this is a matter of taste. Garnish with one-half hard-boiled egg filled with caviar, two slices of tomatoes, a slice of senfgherken, two olives and two radishes.

FRENCH TOAST (Arme Ritter)

CUT slices of white bread one-half inch thick, trim off crusts, make a batter of two parts of eggs and one part of milk beaten together with a little salt. In this soak slices of bread and fry in clear butter or lard. Serve with maple syrup, honey, stewed fresh fruit, etc. This is a good breakfast dish.

LOBSTER MOLLINI

COLD boiled lobster sliced on fresh made toast; cover with tartar sauce; decorate with lobster claws, pimientase (sweet peppers), parsley, lemons, capers and sweet pickles. A nice dish for light luncheon.

CANAPE ANCHOVY SALAD

CUT fine 10 anchovies in oil, a half head of lettuce, one hard-boiled egg, one pickled beet, the tip of a boiled smoked tongue, a half apple; mix together with one tablespoonful of pearl onions and a half tablespoonful of capers; season with French dressing. Put shredded or leaf lettuce on plate on which lay one slice of tomato; put anchovy salad on top; decorate with chopped hard-boiled egg and beets.

BAKED STUFFED LAKE TROUT
For Eight Persons.

One 5-lb. lake trout.
One 2-lb. lake trout.
One pint bread stuffing.
2 yolks of eggs.
Butter, salt and pepper.
Some chopped parsley.

CLEAN fish, the large one leave whole, the smaller one split, skin, remove bones and chop very fine; mix the chopped-up fish with a pint of bread stuffing well seasoned; add two yolks of eggs, four ounces butter and chopped parsley; with this dressing fill the fish and sew up; lay in a roasting pan; put in some cut-up vegetables and spices; around fish pour a cup of broth; over fish sprinkle salt, pepper, fresh bread crumbs and butter. Bake for 45 minutes and serve with parsley sauce.

SPAGHETTI WITH FRESH MUSHROOMS.

BOIL one pound of genuine imported Italian spaghetti; cook for eight minutes in plenty of salt water; then wash and drain. Put into a saucepan a cup of rich beef and veal gravy; put in spaghetti; let cook; add one pound of fried fresh mushrooms, a very small quantity of finely chopped and fried shallots or onions, one cup of stewed fresh tomatoes; season with salt and paprika and cook for 10 minutes. When serving, sprinkle over grated parmesan cheese.

For Freckled, Rough or Spotty Complexions
(From The Dermatologist.)
The freckling, discoloring or roughening to which delicate skins are subject after exposure to wind or sun, often appearing in spring, may readily be gotten rid of. Mercolized wax, spread lightly over the face before retiring and removed in the morning with soap and water, completely peels off the disfigured skin. Get an ounce of the wax at any druggist's. There's no more effective way of banishing freckles or other cutaneous defects. Little skin particles come off each day, so the process doesn't even temporarily mar the complexion, and one soon acquires a brand new, spotless, girlishly beautiful face.
Wrinkles caused by weather, worry or illness are best treated by a simple solution of powdered saxolite, one ounce, dissolved in a half pint witch hazel. Bathing the face in this produces a truly marvelous transformation.—ADV.

The Jarr Family

(Mrs. Dusenberry awakes to recollections of Taylor Township)

Written for the Post-Dispatch
By ROY L. McCARDELL

"WAS it only Orpheus who was invoked in rural Indiana?" asked Mr. Michael Angelo Dinkston of old Mrs. Dusenberry.

"If you are coming, come on!" said Mrs. Gratch, the militant suffragette, to Mr. Dinkston.

Mrs. Jarr, in whose parlor these discordant elements had met, arose and said:

"Oh, dear, please don't go! Why, it's early yet, and you know I am so glad to have you here."

Truth crushed to earth will rise again sometime and somewhere; but never at social affairs. Mrs. Jarr was really so anxious her unwelcome visitors should go that she could have wept when Mrs. Gratch sat down again.

"Let us hear of Terpsichore in Arcadia, of Thalia," continued Mr. Dinkston, addressing himself still to old Mrs. Dusenberry.

"Oh, yes, Arcadia," replied the lady from Indiana. "Arcadia is nine miles down the pike from Taylor Town. Arcadia's the place where they whitecapped an Eyetalian peddler for selling plaster figgers without a stitch on 'em. The moral element riz right up and got bilin' drunk and tarred and feathered the Eyetalian and rode him out of town on a rail! Then they stole Jedge Wisekettle's chickens. Two of them stattcehrs of figgers without any close on 'em is in the bar of the Risley Hotel in Arcadia to this very day, or was, and the Wimmen's Temperance Society would have raided the place a dozen times and smashed everything in it, only, as Sister Trotman rightly said, 'How could any refined woman look them unmoral things in the face and not blush?'"

"Casts of Phyrne and Venus, perchance?" said Mr. Dinkston. "Of a verity, your Arcadians were iconoclast!"

"No hard names, Mister!" retorted Mrs. Dusenberry. "The plain people is the moral backbone and sinew of the country. The jail of Taylor Township never had a pris'ner that was a resident of the community. Only strangers getting ketched at something got put in jail. Not that Taylor Township folks didn't sue each other, but everybody knowed if anybody got anybody arrested and got 'em sent to jail, that meant shootin' and barn burnin'. And not until the Government cases against every man in Taylor Township for gittin' money for his vote was tried was there ever any native citizen put in jail. What community is there around here with sech a reputation for bein' moral, upright and law-abidin'?"

"You misunderstand Mr. Dinkston," interposed Mr. Jarr. "He asks you if music was the only diversion of the Indiana community in which you so long resided. Was there any interest in the drama, the theater, or dancing?"

"No," replied the old lady; "the young folks used to have a dance once in a while, but it was never attended, 'cept maybe on the sly, by youngsters of good family. The moral element in the community was against anything of that sort, 'cept, maybe, dialogues sech as 'Are You For Temperance, Soldier?' or a cantatter, sich as 'Queen Esther,' though onct a year we had an opry company from Evansville play 'Ten Nights in a Barroom,' 'Uncle Tom's Cabin,' 'East Lynne' and 'Lady Audley's Secret.' But that was in my time. Bless you, nowadays Taylor Town has a regular 'Tenderline,' as they call it, of its own, with two movin' picture theaters and a tenpin alley almost side by side. I got a letter from my cousin Becky jest the other day in which she said that people of Taylor Town thought nothing of staying up till after 10 o'clock or spending a whole quarter, maybe night after night!"

"But the drama, the modern drama?" repeated Mr. Dinkston. "We know that Indiana has had six thousand sons of song, its legions of poets. We know the children of Indiana lisp in rhyme and are taught the two great rules of life in Hoosierdom are four grains of corn to a hill in corn planting time, four rhymes to the quatrain when, girdled in their golden singing coats, they wake to ecstasy the living lyre!"

"Who's a living liar?" cried the old lady sharply. "What do you mean?"

And she sprang to her feet.

"When women have the ballot they will not be so dull of comprehension, I hope," said Mrs. Gratch, also jumping to her feet. "Mr. Dinkston has only asked you if any one you know from your part of Indiana has gone on the stage."

"Yes, that's all he said," confirmed Mrs. Jarr.

"Why don't he talk United States talk, then?" asked the old lady. "Certainly we had a gal who run away to go on the stage! Em Tutwiller what waited at the lunch counter at the deppo ran off with a drummer the fust time Brian was up for President, and she went on the stage, and it was reported in the Taylor Town Banner that she was in an opry called 'Bang' or 'Wang,' or suthin' like that, and got a thousand dollars a night bringing in a sacred chicken in a Chinese weddin'. But I don't believe it. Nuthin' is sacred with them Chinese, not even a chicken."

"Mr. Dinkston, if you are coming with me, come!" cried Mrs. Gratch; and, rising up, she grabbed that gentleman by the arm and bore him off practically by force.

And Mrs. Jarr's salon was at an end for this occasion.

ADVICE ON

Love and Courtesy

Written for the Post-Dispatch

By BETTY VINCENT.

"Winning Him Back."

SOME of you ask me a question which women have been asking for a great many hundreds of years, and which I rather fancy they will keep on asking even after they get the vote.

Stripped of non-essentials, it goes something like this: "A young man used to act as if he cared about me. Now he stays away, although we are not angry. But I love him, and how can I win him back?"

My dear, you CAN'T. Perhaps that seems cruel to you, but the sooner you realize it the better. "Man is a giddy thing," says the most famous "bachelor gentleman" in literature. He's right about it, but it can't be helped.

If he wants to go and you try to call him back he will only despise or pity you. Your best plan is simply—to forget.

A Deceitful Suitor.

A. L. writes: "My fiance tells me he is getting $40 a week. But he keeps putting off our marriage and always has some excuse for not buying me an engagement ring. I think he is not making nearly as much as he says. Should my mother ask him about it?"

It would be better for you yourself to have a talk with him, and insist on perfect frankness in regard to his finances. He owes it to you, since he has asked you to marry him.

Forget Him.

B. C. writes: "I am fifteen and very much in love with a young man. I have written him many letters, but he does not answer them. What shall I do?"

Stop thinking about him. You are too young to be in love with anybody.

Propose.

L. G. Writes: "I have been paying attention to a young lady for six months and am convinced that I love her. Am I justified in telling her so?"

Certainly.

The First Kiss.

I. J. writes: "Is it proper for a girl to let a young man kiss her, if she knows he is very nice? They are not engaged.

A girl is supposed to keep her kisses for the man whom she loves well enough to marry.

Too Old.

W. E. writes: "I am in love with a widow eleven years older than myself. Do you think our marriage is likely to be happy?"

Such unions seldom turn out well.

Bad Form.

A. S. writes: "Is it a girl's place to hold her fiance's overcoat when he leaves after a call?"

It is not considered good form.

The Separate Home.

O. S. writes: "I am about to be married, and the young man insists that I live with his parents, who are well off. What do you advise me to do?"

Try to arrange for a home of your own. You will stand a much greater chance of happiness.

Foolish.

A. K. writes: "I have been corresponding with a young man whom I have never seen. He wants to come here, but my mother wouldn't let me marry him. Shall I go to him?"

Certainly not! And stop thinking of marriage in connection with a man you've never seen.

Press On.

B. A. writes: "I am very much in love with a young lady, but my chum is also paying her attentions, although she has not admitted caring for him. Would it be fair for me to press my suit?"

Certainly, as the young lady is not bound in any way to your friend.

MAN HURT IN FIGHT

He Is Taken to Hospital; Assailant Arrested.

Joseph McCarthy and Otto Latta, who say they are sweethearts of Allie and Effie Berghofer of 1006 Glasgow avenue, fought in front of the Berghofer home Monday night. Latta struck McCarthy on the head with a bottle and punched his nose. When the police arrived Latta was hiding beneath a stairway at 2837 Easton avenue. McCarthy was taken to the city hospital.

According to Latta, who was taken to the Dayton Street Police Station, McCarthy had made remarks about him for which he had demanded an apology. When the apology was not forthcoming, he said, he struck McCarthy. McCarthy boards at the Berghofer home. Latta lives at 3026 Bell avenue. Each is about 30 years old.

SEVEN YEARS OF MISERY

How Mrs. Bethune Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"For seven years I suffered everything. I was in bed for four or five days at a time, and so weak I could hardly walk. I had cramps, backache and headache, and was no nervous and weak that I dreaded to see anyone or have anyone move in the room. The doctor gave me medicine to ease me at those times, and said that I ought to have an operation. I would not listen to that, and when a friend of my husband's told him about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for his wife, I was willing to take it. Now I look the picture of health and feel like it, too. I can do all my own housework, work in the garden and entertain company and enjoy them, and can walk as far as any ordinary woman, any day in the week. I wish I could talk to every suffering woman and girl, and tell them what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Mrs. Dema Bethune, Sikeston, Mo.

Remember, the remedy which did this was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with tumors, backache, headache, hot flashes, sleeplessness, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means have failed. Why don't you try it?

The Marquette and the Harrison Latest to Enter and Captains Are Named.

Two more schools entered the lists Tuesday for the Public School Athletic League, making 42 schools now represented in the league. Principals of several other schools announced Tuesday that they will be ready to report on their schools Wednesday.

The schools that entered Tuesday were the Marquette and the Harrison. Miss F. M. Bacon, principal of the Marquette School, McPherson and Warne avenues, appointed Fay Lauchner of 3893 Delmar boulevard to be captain for that school, and H. H. Edmiston, principal of Harrison School, Green Lea place and Fair avenue, appointed Raymond Crawley to represent his school.

John Murray, who was appointed Monday by Miss Jennie G. Kenefick of the Kraft Street School, is only 12 years old and one of the smallest of the school athletes, but before sundown he had organized a squad of 11 runners and jumpers and was making arrangements for them to begin training on the vacant ground adjacent to the Kraft School. The members of the squad are John Murray, William Rumpf, Frank Metz, Fred Hofer, John Schurman, Robert Ried, Robert Wollberg, Grant Spicer, Theodore Fleming, John Downey, John Rumpf.

Girl Athletes in School.

There are girl athletes as well as boy athletes in the Kraft street school and several girls wanted to be enrolled for the events, but only boys are eligible to the Public School Athletic League.

Capt. Byrns of the Hodgen School, Lafayette and California avenues, has found that he will not be able to act, and Harry L. Reichert of 2807 Accomac street has been appointed in his place. The following boys have entered from the Hodgen School: Harry L. Reichert, Dan Frederick, Herbert Prinster, Charles La Mint, Louis Brock, Chester Davis, Joseph Flynn, Samuel Byrns, Joseph Martin. Capt. Reichert says he will make up his relay team as soon as he finds which of the members of his squad show up best in practice.

Captains who have not sent in the names of the squads to the Post-Dispatch office are requested to send them in at once, so they can be printed. If the lists are not complete they can be sent in as they are and supplemental lists sent in later.

The captains of most of the teams have reported to the Post-Dispatch that they have training grounds near the schools. The captains who want to use public playgrounds for training can do so without permits, but are requested to confer with Miss Charlotte Rumbold, secretary of the Public Recreation Commission, at the Park Commissioner's office, city hall. Those who want to use grounds in any of the public parks are requested to communicate with the management of the Public School Athletic League at the Post-Dispatch office.

All captains who have not done so are requested to call at the Post-Dispatch office at 8:15 a. m. or 4 p. m. any day for a conference in the interest of a better understanding of the plans. Captains are requested to confer with their principals about the time and place for their individual school meets, and to notify the Post-Dispatch as soon as possible when and where the meets will be held. LOSES FAT—WINS FORTUNE

The Amazing Story of How Marjorie Hamilton, Compelled to Reduce Her Weight or Lose Her Employment, Found a Drugless Treatment for Making Fat Vanish.

ACTRESSES AND SOCIETY WOMEN REJOICE OVER THEIR NEW SLENDER FIGURES

She Has Built NOT on the Tears of Disappointed Patrons, But on the Smiles and Joy of Those Who Came to Her Not in Vain.

MOST DISCUSSED BUSINESS WOMAN IN AMERICA TELLS SECRETS OF HER SUCCESS

BY ADA LEE

I have just met and talked to a REAL woman. When instructed to interview Marjorie Hamilton, who has won fame and fortune by teaching fat people how to grow slim by her drugless treatment, I didn't know just what kind of a person I expected to meet; but I do know that, no matter what my expectations were, I was most agreeably disappointed.

I was ushered into her rooms and a slim, exquisite, girlish young creature, radiant with health and youthful beauty and with the most beautiful skin I have ever seen, came towards me with a genuine sure-fire smile beaming at me across her outstretched hand. I marveled to myself. Could this fresh, wholesome, buoyant slip of a girl be the most discussed beauty specialist in the world? Could this light-hearted picture of unspoiled young womanhood be the marvel of commercial acumen and enterprise whose success had startled business men by the originality and soundness of its methods? I was going to find out.

After we had passed safely over the shoals of conventionality, I put my first real question to her:

"How do you account for your great success, Miss Hamilton?" I asked.

Success Built on Smiles.

There was no hesitation in her answer which shows that the secret is not the result of chance, but that it is the outcome of a firmly established business policy. "I owe my success to the fact that I have built, NOT ON THE TEARS OF DISAPPOINTED PATRONS, BUT ON THE SMILES AND JOY OF THOSE WHO CAME TO ME NOT IN VAIN. It is my proudest boast that the best advertising I get is not what I pay for to the newspapers and the magazines, but the free and unsolicited testimonials given by word of mouth to those who suffer from fat by those I have reduced to the slimness they desire. That is why I have succeeded where others have failed. I have really relieved people of their burdens of fat, and I have done it without drugs, without tearing the bodies of delicate women to pieces with strenuous and injurious exercises, without starving them.

"I suppose you know," she continued "that I used to be a calendar model posing for photographers. My pictures pleased so well that they were used by one big firm in Chicago on one entire issue of calendars one year, and won me my nickname of 'The Calendar Girl.'

"The posing brought me big returns, and it was lazy work. The result was, that one day the photographer had a new model. My last sittings had been a failure—I was too fat. You can imagine how broken hearted I was. My means of subsistence was vanishing, and I could see only a life of drudgery ahead. Then I rushed frantically to the files of a newspaper to look for a fat-reducing ad.

"I found it—I found dozens of them. I tried one, I tried ten; they none of them benefited me. The drug nostrums ruined my health and I grew sallow and ill. I couldn't eat. I couldn't digest what food I forced myself to take. Some fat left me, but it left me haggard and ugly, and the pretty lines of my figure sagged and seemed to lose their symmetry. Then I tried exercises. I was always fond of sports and outdoor games, but the dreary monotony of these exercises grew every day more trying, as I followed out the courses laid down by the physical torture experts until every bone in my poor little body ached, and I decided even fat was better. I tried starving myself, but the result, while it took pounds off fast enough, left me hollow-cheeked and dim-eyed, and I felt my vitality slipping away from me.

"I was desperate. A story appeared about that time telling of a domestic tragedy. The wife had killed herself because her husband had ceased to love her. Pictures of the unfortunate woman were printed. AND SHE WAS VERY STOUT.

"That was the moving factor in my life. The thought that I, too, some day might fall in love with some man whose heart would remain closed to me because my ungainly, ugly fat body robbed me of that attractiveness that all men desire in the woman of their hearts, chilled me. I went to work to solve the problem of how to regain my slimness. I can't tell you all that I did—the experiments, the studying, the consultations with eminent experts, physicians, athletes, books on medicine, the theory of body building, and degeneration of the human system. It became a mania with me. I gave up my friends, my amusements, my diversions, my pursuits, and worked night and day, weighing and watching, analyzing and studying and trying to apply to what I learned the good plain horse sense with which nature and my ancestors had endowed me. When at last I saw what I thought was a way out, I decided to experiment on myself. I was my first patron. I think results speak for themselves!" and she stood up straight and slender as any nymph of the woodlands, a picture of incarnate health and beauty, the most glorious young creature I have gazed on in many long moons.

Teaches Others to Be Slim.

"And how did you happen to go into the business of exploiting your find?"

"Well, the fate of the unhappy wife led me to think a great deal, and I realized that she must not be the only wife whose happiness might be in danger from the same cause. That led me to thinking of the other people who suffer from a too solid flesh, as Shakespeare calls it. I had spent one summer of intense discomfort when I was fat. Slender people have no idea how fat people suffer in hot weather. It is torture to them. Then I knew of many men who are in business and who must be afflicted by the excess of fat they carry around. Lawyers, doctors, bankers, brokers, merchants—to all of whom the loss of fat would mean much in the way of comfort, as well as a more striking and attractive appearance. Women are not as fickle as men, but wives do not like to see their husbands grow coarse and gross from too much flesh. So I decided to let the world share my secret. I knew there were dozens of unsuccessful fat reducers on the market, so I thought to myself: If these people can make a living by selling an unsuccessful, harmful, drug, would-be, make-believe fat reducer remedy, why shouldn't I do well by selling one that is a genuine, drugless, delightful, home fat-reducer—one that really does the work? I began tentatively, in a small way, without capital or influence. I had no knowledge of how to merchandise my treatments. I wrote my first advertisement in fear and trembling, but I put into it all my sincere conviction of what I COULD do, and told what I had done for myself. That I had reduced myself at the rate of a pound a day after all other so-called cures had failed; that my treatment was drugless; that it did not entail a starvation diet and that it did not require back-breaking and body-racking exercises. When I had finished I read it over and said to myself: 'If that doesn't convince the most unbelieving I'll give it up.'

Her Battle for Success.

"The funds for my first advertising were scraped together at such personal sacrifices of dearly beloved treasures as I never dreamed I should have the courage to make. Then I sat back and waited. I had no office, just desk room in some other office, and there I sat all day, watching the door for the coming of the postman. Day after day I waited, and then the answers began coming in, slowly and uncertainly at first, and then a little faster. They all wanted to know about my treatment. I sent particulars broadcast, free, and the rush was on, and it has never ceased. The public, which eventually winnows the chaff from the wheat of every proposition, was with me. I was able to increase my advertising appropriation and enlarge my office facilities, and I was soon equipped to take care of the growing tide of inquiries and demands for my treatment. Then the greatest influence for my success that I know of came to my assistance. There is between fat people a freemasonry without rites or ceremonial, even as there is between invalids afflicted in the same fashion.

Actresses Her Patrons.

"The results my treatments effected began to be discussed in the boudoirs of the women of fashion and in the greenrooms of theaters, for I found then, as now, that society women and actresses were my best customers. This word of mouth, this whispered name from fat woman to fat woman, has been my best friend and my greatest advertiser.

"My patrons are not women alone. Thousands of men owe their regained health and a reasonable waist-line to me. You would be surprised if I were to show you the names on my books—names of men famous in business, in politics, in the church and in the professions. It is not always vanity that prompts them to take my treatment, but more often the desire to be rid of an incubus of flesh that worries and annoys them."

As I sat, spellbound, beside Miss Hamilton, a mere slip of a girl, apparently just out of her teens, listening to her story that sounded like a dream, but which is absolutely verified by the facts in the case, I marveled at this achievement, this all-conquering faith in her ideals that made her rise to this opportunity. Without money, without influence, without special business knowledge, she has built herself, out of her own brain, a fortune and a place in the annals of fame. One phrase she used casually stuck in my brain. She said: "I would have quit a thousand times if my own personal interests alone were at stake, but I felt that I owed my sisters a duty. I felt as though this knowledge I had received had been given to me as a secred trust for the benefit of humanity. My necessity has made it profitable to me, but I should like to be able to benefit all those who suffer from obesity, and my records will show that I have given my book, entitled 'Fat Reduction Without Drugs,' absolutely free to tens of thousands of people who have written to me asking for it."

Her Duty to Humanity.

Here was the thing that makes Miss Hamilton different from all others in the mail order business. She feels that she is performing a duty to humanity.

Denver is justly proud of Miss Hamilton and of her success. Her offices in the Bank Building are sumptuously fitted out, probably the handsomest offices in that great thriving city at the foot of the Rockies, where hundreds of women assist Miss Hamilton to send out each day tens of thousands of free copies of her great book entiled "Fat Reduction Without Drugs," now in its 14th edition. As I stepped out of her offices into this glorious sunshine of this favored climate I could not help feeling that the world would be much better for more women like Marjorie Hamilton, more women with capability, with true hearts, with the faith that conquers. And as a woman, I read a lesson of encouragement to all women in her achievements, and I hope this rapid impression of the most discussed business woman in the United States may be the spur to other women to greater efforts for the benefit of their sex and toward the attainment of that goal that is laid down as the right and privilege of everyone who lives in this great land of ours, the free and untrammeled pursuit of health, wealth and happiness.

Marjorie Hamilton, crowned with praise by the tens of thousands of those she has restored to happiness and health by her Drugless Treatment for making fat vanish.

3 APPROACHES TO FREE BRIDGE TO BE RECOMMENDED

Joint Free Bridge Committee to Submit Reports to Assembly Within a Week.

REAPPOINTMENT LIKELY

Members Slated for Continuance of Work—Assembly to Reorganize Today.

Three free bridge approaches will be recommended to the Municipal Assembly in the reports of the Joint Free Bridge Committee of the House and Council to be submitted within a week.

Four members of the Council—Lehmberg, Protzmann, Rower and Randall—will recommend the Reber approach, with a Denverside extension carrying it beyond the limits of East St. Louis.

Two members of the committee—Delegates Mohrstadt and Councilman Paule—will recommend the Alton & Mississippi approach.

Chairman Roy Eilers and Delegate Scully will present a report favoring the northeast approach. Delegates Ebrecht and Echelman probably will sign the Eilers report.

Information as to the standing of the committee and the probable time of report was given to a Post-Dispatch reporter Tuesday by Councilman Lehmberg and other members of the committee. They said they would be prepared to assure the Assembly at 3 p. m. when it meets for reorganization, that they would be able to present their reports within a week.

Slated for Reappointment.

The three reports will bring the three proposed east side approaches squarely before the Assembly for action. Councilman Lehmberg said that the adoption of the report recommending the Reber approach with the Denverside extension would give assurance of an approach that could not be bottled up. The approach would be carried beyond all lines of railroads identified with the Terminal Railroad Association, he said, assuring independent railroads of access to the bridge without so much as police power supervision by the city of East St. Louis.

The 10 members of the Joint Committee are all slated for reappointment. The Council, by resolution, requested the retention of the five Council members. Speaker Sommerich, who is slated for re-election, has promised to reappoint the five House members, provided they give assurances of an early report. They are prepared, with the Council members, to promise a report within a week.

The Associated Retailers of St. Louis met in their offices in the Equitable Building at 10 a. m. Tuesday, to hear discussions of the free bridge approaches. Prof. Calvin M. Woodward, dean of the Engineering School of Washington University, appeared to speak in favor of the Reber approach, for which the land has been acquired by purchase or condemnation, and P. W. Haberman, an attorney, appeared in behalf of the Alton & Mississippi approach. The Alton & Mississippi Railway has offered to give the city the site for this approach.

Tour of East Side Sites.

Frank H. Gerhart was invited to speak in behalf of the Gernart or northeast approach, but he declined the invitation. Gerhart champions the northeast approach, which cuts diagonally through East St. Louis. It has been estimated that this approach would cost from $3,300,000 to $5,500,000 and would involve the city in five years' litigation before title to the site could be acquired. The approach itself would require two years' time to build after the land had been acquired, according to reports submitted by President Reber of the Board of Public Improvements to the Associated Retailers.

Chairman Ralston of the Free Bridge Committee of the Associated Retailers said the committee, at its last meeting, voted to have an executive session to hear the arguments on the approaches. After the meeting the committee has arrangd to make a tour of the East Side sites.

AN engagement particularly interesting just now is Miss Elisabeth Walton Allen's to Dr. James Mennel of London, England. Miss Allen sailed on the ill-fated Titanic with her aunt and cousin, Mrs. Edward S. Robert, and her daughter, Miss Georgette Madill. They were returning home for a short time before going back to England, where Miss Allen is to be married in July.

Miss Allen is the daughter of George W. Allen and has made her home with Mrs. Robert for several years.

REYES IN MEXICO PRISON, BONDSMEN HERE SEEK RELIEF

They Will Ask Court to Call His Offense Misdemeanor So They Can Pay Fine.

HOUSTON, Tex., April 13.—Personal and political friends of Gen. Bernardo Reyes, charged with violation of the neutrality laws of the United States, will endeavor to have the charge against him reduced to misdemeanor, when the case is called for trial by Judge Waller T. Burns of the Southern District of Texas, at Laredo, Monday.

Such a movement has been under way on the American side of the Rio Grande for several weeks, and it is founded on several reasons, first: To relieve the men who have signed his bond for $10,000; second, to make it possible for Gen. Reyes to return to the United States without a possible penitentiary sentence hanging over his head; third, to make it possible for a plea of guilty to be entered without Gen. Reyes himself being in the courtroom.

United States District Attorney Lock McDaniel successfully prosecuted the cases against other revolutionists, and says he will not accede to such a compromise.

"The indictment returned against Gen. Reyes," he says, "charges a felony and if the case is tried at all it will be tried on that indictment as it stands. We could not agree to a compromise. He has asked Attorney-General Wickersham for an opinion on the proposed move of Gen. Reyes.

Gen. Reyes will not be in court when his case is called. He is in prison at Mexico City and President Madero has intimated that he will see to it that he does not leave Mexican soil.

With the calling of the case for trial Monday, the Government officers will have proof ready. The non-appearance of the revolutionist will mean the immediate motion of the officials for forfeiture of the $10,000 bond and it will be in this connection that the reduction of the charge from a felony to a misdemeanor will be asked.

Should such a request be granted by the court, attorneys for Reyes will probably enter a plea of guilty for him and accept and pay such a fine as the court might impose. This action would relieve the bond signers immediately from their $10,000 liability.

MAN WROTE TO HIS WIFE, BUT LEWIS GOT IT; FIRED HIM

Then, Stenographer Testifies, Sidney Morse Threatened to Go to Houts.

HE MIXED THE LETTERS

Put One Intended for Mrs. Morse Into Envelope Addressed to Publisher.

Women stenographers, formerly employed by E. G. Lewis and the Lewis Publishing Co., when they were called Tuesday to testify against Lewis in the congressional investigation of Lewis' claim against the Postoffice Department for damages, were warned by Edward C. Madden, attorney for Lewis, that they could not be compelled to divulge the confidences that existed between them and their former employer.

The stenographers were Misses Anna R. Martin and Anna N. Tierney. United States District Attorney Houts told the stenographers that there was no law exempting them from giving testimony as to what transpired while they were in the employ of Lewis.

Gives Girl Warning.

"I want to warn you that you will have to take the consequences if you testify relative to the private correspondence of Lewis," Madden said to Miss Tierney.

"What consequences?" she asked.

"Why, you might be subjected to criticism on the floor of the House of Representatives."

"Oh, that doesn't scare me," said Miss Tierney. "If I remember rightly, Mr. Madden, you have been criticised on the floor of the House. Did that frighten you?"

"No," said Madden, "but you might wish to get employment as a stenographer again, and if it was known that you divulged confidences you might not be able to get a position."

"I am willing to take a chance," said Miss Tierney.

His Private Typist.

She then testified that she was private stenographer for Lewis, and knew that he wrote letters and signed other people's names to them. She recalled that he dictated to her a letter which he sent to A. O. Rule to sign. This was a letter boosting Lewis real estate deals in University City. Rule testified in the trial of Lewis that Lewis wrote the letter and sent it to him for approval, and that after making some alterations he let the letter be issued.

Miss Martin testified relative to charges that Lewis made in 1911 to the effect that his subscription lists had been tampered with for a year. Miss Martin said that Miss Elizabeth Hannigan, who had charge of the subscription departments, resented the charges, which appeared in an article in the Woman's National Daily

She wrote a letter to Lewis telling him that the reason subscription money had not been sent to magazines affiliated with the American Woman's League scheme was because no money was available to pay the subscriptions.

She also testified that Sidney Morse, a former employe of Lewis, was discharged after a letter he had written to his wife from New York, and inadvertantly inclosed in a letter addressed to Lewis, fell into Lewis' hands.

Said Things Were Rotten.

She testified that she had heard Morse say that things were "rotten" at University City, and after he was discharged he threatened to go to District Attorney Houts and to several weekly newspapers and make complaint against Lewis.

Lewis was not at the hearing, which was held before Notary George Zollinger in the office of United States District Attorney Houts. Mrs. Lewis was present and sat by Madden, who was Third Assistant Postmaster-General at the time Lewis had his troubles with the Postoffice Department in 1905 and 1907.

Counted Subscriptions.

William L. Reed, a postoffice inspector, testified that in 1905 he aided Postoffice Inspectors Sullivan and Stice in counting the subscription lists of the Lewis magazines. Lewis did not object to the investigation, he said, and furnished facilities for having it made in his offices.

The count was made between Oct. 13 and Oct. 16, 1905. At nights, after a days work had been done, the doors of the magazine building were sealed and locked. Lewis told the inspectors that everything was wide open, and that he was glad to have the count made, Reed said.

9 IN A FAMILY HURT IN A COLORADO WRECK

Rock Island Train Ditched Near Pueblo and 19 in All Are Injured.

PUEBLO, Colo., April 16.—Nineteen passengers were injured, several of them seriously when the Pueblo section of the Rock Island Mountain Limited train was ditched at Cuba, a small flagstation, 11 miles north of here, at 3 p. m., yesterday.

The accident was caused by a broken angle bar on a switch. The engine and mail car crossed in safety, but the day coach was piled alongside the track and the Pullman was derailed partly. All the injured passengers were in the day coach. Only six of those on board the entire train escaping without injury. A special train brought the injured to this city.

Nine of the injured were in one family, that of Robert Grier of Ogden, Utah. Mr. and Mrs. Grier and three children were hurt seriously.

No modern housewife would buy an ordinary Gas Stove after seeing "Buck's" Sanitary Line—made with White Enameled Cast Iron Ovens.

For constipated bowels, sluggish liver, biliousness, or sour, disordered stomach, feverishness, diarrhoea, bad breath or to break a cold, give one-half to a teaspoonful of "Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged up waste, bile, undigested food will gently move the system without griping or nausea, and you will surely have a well, happy and smiling child again shortly.

UP TO JUVENILE PITCHERS TO WIN FOR BRESNAHAN

Harmon, Steele, and Sallee Not in Form for Hard Struggles, Although Club Has Been Winning

By W. J. O'CONNOR.

THAT Manager Bresnahan soon will find himself at the mercy of his juvenile pitchers, is the unpleasant outlook in the Cardinal camp. Big Bill Steele, the mighty mountaineer, and Bob Harmon, "iron man," have registered successive failures, while Sallee had a hard time getting started Sunday. And so, on the eve of the club's first road trip, the outlook is none too roseate.

The Cardinals wind up with the Cubs Tuesday and Wednesday they hit the blazed trail for Pittsburg. Before returning they also hook up with Chicago and Cincinnati, and against the latter team Bresnahan probably will send his heftiest hurlers. There is considerable rivalry between the Rhinelanders and Roger's Rogues. In fact, Cincinnati is one team that the Cardinals would like to head off.

This rivalry was born when Huggins, Mowrey and Oakes were passed up by the Porkapolis promoters. The trio of Cards resented the treatment they received in Redland, and they conspired to humble the Redlegs as often as possible. Last year they were fairly successful, winning 16 out of 22 games from Cincinnati. That only intensified the rivalry, and this year the Cardinals are out to repeat their 1911 record; but, to date, the rejuvenated Reds have shown too much speed and dash for the Rogues of Roger to feel anyway confident of a conquest in Rhineland.

However, it would not be surprising if Bresnahan should save his best pitchers for the Cincinnati series. He may rest up Sallee and Harmon, as both seemed a little off edge in the last outs, until the team hits Cincinnati. In that case Bresnahan will be forced to try out juvenile hurlers against the Pirates in the series which starts in Pittsburg Thursday.

And the fans would welcome such a scheme. The Cardinal rooters would like to see Dell, Dale and Golden get a 1912 tryout. Dell showed against the Browns, and pitched a slashing good game. Since then, however, he has been shelved. Dale got a chance Tuesday against the Cubs, and there was no reason to discredit his work. He worked well for three innings, although a bit nervous at the start.

But Roy Golden hasn't debuted at all, at all, this season, and the big right-hander who was relied on to take turns with Harmon, Sallee and Steele still is an unknown quantity. Golden is well able to stand the strain of pitching every third day if he ever gets control. He is the most massive piece of brac-a-brac in the Cardinal camp, but he hasn't had much chance to show his wares. However, under present conditions, Bresnahan probably will be forced to call on his youngster, and Golden undoubtedly will be one of them.

Roger has Veteran Bob Ewing to relieve the Kids should they falter, and Ewing reports himself ready to work. He was booked to pitch Monday, but was sidetracked at the last minute because Harmon showed well in the warm-up, but Harmon blew up beautifully, and is charged with the defeat

CARDS CLOSE FIRST HOME STAY TUESDAY

TODAY'S game will wind up the Cardinals' first series at home, Boss Bresnahan evacuating tomorrow afternoon in favor of Roderick Wallace, who will bring the brown-hosed brigade back for a short stand at Sportsman's Park. Wednesday will be an open date, the Browns opening here Thursday with Chicago, while the Pirates will make their season's debut in Pittsburg.

Manager Bresnahan has selected his party for the first swing around the Western circuit, and he will take only 22 players. The trouping squad will include:

Catchers—Bresnahan, Bliss and Wingo.

Infielders—Koney, Huggins, Hauser, Mowrey, Smith and Magee.

Outfielders—Oakes, Evans, Ellis and Willie.

Pitchers—Harmon, Sallee, Steele, Geyer, Dale, Dell, Ewing, Woodburn and Willis.

The stay-at-homes will be Clarke, Million, Johnson, Golden, Annis and Laudermilk.

This indicates that Dennis Willie will be carried as the extra gardener, while Million and Clarke are booked for release.

Cheney's Clever Pitching Holds Rogers' Wrecking Crew in Check

Larry Cheney, rescued last fall from the minors of Louisville, hurled rings around Bob Harmon, and the Cubs copped the second game from the city champions Monday at Robison Field, 9—2. The garrison finish didn't materialize, because Mr. Cheney was master of the situation to the last. Consequently the Rogues of Roger didn't look near as ferocious as they did in their previous seven games, which they won with belated rallies.

Harmon was several parasangs off his stride. Big Bod had his glove and the inclination; but he couldn't pitch up an alley. He was lucky in the first few rounds, pulling himself out of tight holes in the first, third and fourth, but in the sixth the crash came and the good ship Cardinal sank under the weight of six large, suculent tallies. Thereafter the game was as interesting as a wireless chess match.

Chicago amassed 13 hits, coaxed eight walks, swiped four bases, and the Cardinals kicked in with four errors of commission and a few mental blunders. But out of this medley of mishaps the Cubs could count only nine runs.

On two different occasions the Cubs filled the bases with one out and then failed to score. That isn't much like the Cub machine of old. Time was when the Cubs would count a run by sheer force, if a run was needed; but that deadly punch is not so much in evidence these days. It takes a heap of hits for Chance's machine to score these days and until the hits came in a bunch in the sixth stanza, the visitors looked none too good, although they had the edge in pitching.

A single and three bases on balls failed to net a run for the visitors in the first inning. Evers opened with a safe knock to center. Then Sheckard missed the hit-and-run sign, and Evers was out stealing, Bliss to Hauser. Next, Sheckard walked. So did Schulte. Likewise Zimmerman; but Lennox and Hofman fanned.

One out in the fourth. Tinker, Archer and Cheney scratched infield hits, filling the bases. Then Evers slapped into a double play and the agony was over.

Two bases on balls, an error and five singles in dizzy succession netted the Cubs a cluster of six runs in the sixth. That took the edge off the contest, and it dragged for the remaining three rounds.

Cheney got away wit ha five-hit game. Most of these blows were made after the Cubs had put the game on ice. Two dink hits were all the Cardinals got in the first five innings; but at that a run came over. Starting the first, Huggins singled to center. Ellis went out, Cheeny to Zimmerman, Huggins hiking for third. Zimmerman made a hurried throw to Lennox, but was unfortunate to get a hold of the moistened seam of the pellet, and the ball soared to the bleachers, Huggins scoring. Thereafter the Cards were very, very tame.

Harmon received good support until the sixth, when the cannonading began. Then the Cardinal defense cracked, Mowrey mussing up several grounders.

One of the prettiest plays of the game was Hauser's relay of Oakes' peg to Bliss, nipping Zimmerman at the plate in the fifth. Oakes and Hauser both made perfect throws, and the Cubs' first-sacker was trapped when he tried to score on a triple.

Frank Gilhooley still is with us. Francois, the Toledo Terror, refuses to report to Erie, Pa., and he's unable to reach an agreement with Manager Bresnahan. There's a slight chance that he may give up the game and return to his home in Toledo, playing independent ball there—but the chances for such a conduct are only slight. Most likely Frank will take his medicine like a little man and report to Erie.

Robison Field is equipped with the best four-inning score board in the league. After the fourth round, the sun hits the Hon. Board at a peculiar angle and the figures are obscured. Some of the figures are obscured before the sun hits them. One way of fixing the score board is to build a new one.

Bresnahan made his reappearance on the coaching lines Monday after being on the sick list for a week. Roger proved a jinx.

After six runs had been scored by the Cubs in the sixth, Bresnahan benched Harmon and Bliss, and sent Jean Dale, the local boy, to the hurling hillock, with Ivey Wingo behind the bat. The kid battery prospered, after a poor start. Ellis' error helped the Cubs to a run in the ninth, but all in all, Dale seemed to control the situation.

Diamond Glints

Who'll stop them Reds?

The Cardinals no longer lead the League. One defeat sent the Rogues of Roger tumbling into second place.

There must be eight first-division clubs in the National League. We refer you to today's standing.

Christy Mathewson lost his first out, 3—0. That's sad. If Matty slips, then the Giants will find the going pretty tough. And just to think that Vin Campbell, the St. Louis boy, was the cause of Big Six's downfall. Vin nicked two hits and drove in two runs.

Art Fletcher, the Collinsville boy, is out of the Giants' lineup because of a lame ankle. Shafer, who quit baseball a year ago to tour Europe, is shortstopping.

Alexander rescued Earl Moore, and the Phillies won from the Superbas. At that, Brooklyn counted six runs on seven hits, which is pretty good baseball.

Cardinals Face King Cole.

Manager Chance of the Cubs will send King Cole against the Cardinals in the final game of the series this afternoon while Manager Bresnahan will rely on either Bob Ewing or Bill Seteele.

TRENDALL FOUGHT A WELTER, AT PITTSBURG

Harry Trendall, the Missouri lightweight boxing champion, returned to St. Louis from Pittsburg, Monday, having fought Phil Brock to a standstill in that city. Varying reports of the verdict were given out, most of them favoring Trendall. C. B. Powers, in one of the Pittsburg papers, says the fight was a good draw with Trendall doing most of the forcing.

In the fifth, Trendall appeared about to knockout his opponent, but Brock came back splendidly in the last round and swapped blow for blow. Brock weighed 139½ pounds at 3 o'clock and Trendall entered the ring at the lightweight limit.

RECORD ENTRY FOR CITY TEN PIN MEET

The annual tournament of the St. Louis Tenpin Association, which will open April 27, will ring up with a record entry, according to Secretary Dennis Sweeney, who has announced the schedule for opening night. There are 225 five-men teams, with 614 doubles. The individual list contains 1136 names, by far the biggest entry ever received by a local tournament. The cash prizes total over $2000.

Isn't It Tough?

THAT JURY of 25,000 fans at Robison Field, Sunday, appeared unanimous in pronouncing Koney a "bone." Everybody else on trial in the vicinity is able to get at least a hung jury!

* * *

No Chance to Win.

ONE OF THE MOST interesting diversions ever started by a baseball park is guessing the score at Robison Field, as set forth by the bulletin board. The management might further promote interest by offering a free ticket to the person coming nearest the correct figures after the fifth inning.

* * *

And Then He Stumbled.

HARMON IS NOT a physiological freak; but after viewing Monday's game it can be truthfully remarked that every time he put his hand to a play he put his foot in it.

* * *

After Eagle Eye's Record.

ONE OF THE QUEER things about the present arrangement is the Cubs' idea of playing Zimmerman at first when Artie Hofman, who has subbed in this position with fair success, is available. Zimmerman could probably play the outfield well, in time. At first the best he promises to do is to break Jake Beckley's three-base throw record.

* * *

Merkle Wants a Raise.

ONE OF THE SHARPEST breaks to this morning's market was the advance in solid ivory. The New York figures showed best Merkle stock, limited quantity, $4000 bid and $4500 asked. Probabilities were that the limited supply would be able to command its own price were considered strong. It is rumored that John McGraw is trying to acquire a corner.

He's a Knotty Problem.

IT'S ONLY NATURAL that Boston should feel a trifle bored after its encounter with Plank.

* * *

Record Hunting Bad Team Work.

SHULTE'S HOME RUN record of last year seems destined to put a crimp in his effectiveness. Every time the hard-hitting right-fielder swings he appears to be trying to hit over the right field bleachers—a policy which will earn him some applause from the stands and many a sound berating from the bench. At least it ought to.

* * *

Eccentricity of Genius.

TY HAS GONE HOME suffering from a cold, Manager Jennings states. Judging from the swelling, the seat of the disorder must be in the head.

* * *

He's Just Sulking.

HOWEVER, JENNINGS may have diagnosed the trouble incorrectly. The more probable cause of the disappearance of the Detroit star from his club is the shrinkage of his batting average. Cobb got away this season to a running start of .000 and was following it up splendidly, when last seen, going south.

* * *

Oh, Such a Difference.

TYRUS WILL GET away with his little flight. Whenever Ty's average seems in danger he can acquire cyclitis or some other expensive but harmless trouble without exciting the ire of the management. The only danger in this is the example it sets. Some day Ten Million or Bill Bailey is apt to run amuck and kick at his hotel accommodations. The railroad trains running alongside the window may disturb the rest of these gentlemen, and they, too, may insist on a change of rooms. When the hotel clerk objects they will appeal for support to the manager, who promptly—

But let us draw a curtain on the painful scene. The process of slipping the blue envelope is both painful and familiar.

ZINZINNATI? SURE. You will now find it on the eighth floor of the National League, room 1000. The quarters, however, are merely temporary and the tenants have positive orders to vacate before July 1.

See Which Way They Go.

MANAGERS of the American League teams are already equipping themselves with the last word in binoculars. They want to keep the Athletics in sight as long as possible.

* * *

On Their Way.

ABOUT THE ONLY consistent point in the standings other than the position of the world's champions is the location of the Washington club. When last seen the Clark Griffiths were headed for the bottom, with Walter Johnson acting as a buffer. With his aid they hope to be let down easy.

Not All of Us Draw $9000.

NOW if it were anybody else than Cobb who ducked his team when it was in the dumps they'd call it quitting.

Here's the Real Goods.

THIS WONDERFUL old chap Callahan seems determined to keep his club in the hunt, all by his lonesome.

Monday it was three hits in three times up for him and nobody on the team has been hitting better than the "come-back" champion of 1911.

Callahan joins the faculties of being a good player and a good fellow at the same time—a combination that never before went through. More power to him.

Cobb, Deprived of Sleep, Bolts Detroit Tigers

Great Hitter Becomes Peeved When Manager Jennings Would Not Switch Hotels.

CHICAGO, April 16.—When the Tigers came in from Cleveland yesterday the slugging outfielder, Ty Cobb, was amoung those present. There was nothing to indicate that all was not serene with the "Georgia peach." He went to an exclusive South Side hotel along with his pals and after a while was assigned to a room.

Tyrus had not slept well on the train coming from Cleveland and announced that he would take a nap. He went to his room and to bed. In a little while he was down and complaining to the clerk that the trains on the Illinois Central kept him awake.

The clerk was just as eager to please as any man could be, but he told the outfielder that his room could not be changed. Cobb took it up with Manager Jennings. The latter informed his star that he was running a ball club and not a hotel and that if Cobb didn't like his room he could go to another hotel.

Ty said he would, and then announced that while he was about it he would go to another hotel in another town. Whereupon he packed his trunk, had it checked to Detroit and went to the ball game in his street clothes. He sat in a box back of first base and was there in the role of a spectator, and not as an athlete. Perry played his position in center.

Failure of Joe Lake and Barney Pelty Hard Blow to Prospects of Browns

Two of Three Veterans Crack Under Fire, Leaving Bulk of Season's Slab Work to New Members of Wallace's Team.

By CLARENCE F. LLOYD.

Of the Post-Dispatch Sporting Staff.

CLEVELAND, April 16.

THE Browns must get good pitching if they are to continue the good work they started in Chicago. Even with part of its main attack—Slugger Laporte—missing, the team has showed that it is a fair run-getting machine. But if the club is to keep winning it must receive better sharpshooting than Barney Pelty and Joe Lake afforded it in the opening game of the series with the Naps here yesterday. They let the Naps bag the show, 8—5.

At the beginning of the game the 1911 tailenders went out like a regular team and gathered four runs in the first three rounds. With Pelty, the old hoodoo of the Naps on the job, the contest seemed like a calk-walk. But Pelty crumbled in the third. After he had permitted the Naps to tie it up and leaving two men on the sacks, Joe Lake went in. But Lake did anything but rescue the contest.

The showing of Pelty and Lake following the recent good work of Elmer Brown and George Baumgardner against the White Sox was a bitter disappointment to Manager Wallace. After the series with the White Sox in Chicago Wallace felt quite proud of his team. It had won two games and deserved three from the Sox.

So after the players had piled up five runs and Pelty and Lake failed to land the Browns in front, Wallace wasn't in a good humor. But while Pelty and Lake, who from two-thirds of the veteran set of St. Louis pitchers, failed, "Jawn" Powell came through with a game that may epell much to the team this season.

Frank Laporte finally got into the batting order, yesterday. He wasn't feeling at his best but after Pietro Compton registered three failures at the bat, Wallace yanked the Texan and sent in the French chicken raiser. Laporte had two chances at bat, but failed both times, his right eye still being strange to the curves and fast ones.

Now that Laporte has got back it will probably strengthen the Browns considerably. Pratt has shown nothing to cause Wallace to take him away from second, and the Southerner will continue there. That means Laporte will play right field where he performed in the last two rounds of yesterday's game here. When it is taken into consideration that Laporte, who always hits, will replace Compton, who has made but one hit in the five games played, it should mean much.

FRILL AND GREGG MAY MEET IN SOUTHPAW DUEL

CLEVELAND, April 16.

VEAN GREGG, the best left-hander discovered in 1911, and one of the "finds" of the last decade, according to many critics, will probably be sent against the Browns, in the second game of the series with the Naps, here today. Gregg has not pitched this season, but he is said to be ready and due for a tryout.

Jack Frill, the ex-Jersey City southpaw, will be opposed to the Cleveland pitching selection. Cleveland has but three southpaw batters, Ryan, Jackson and Hohnhorst, but Wallace believes Frill is good enough to win anyhow.

George Stoval Makes Good Before 5000 Friends, Making Three Hits

DESPITE the defeat yesterday there was a redeeming feature of the contest. It was George Stovall's work. His friends in Cleveland turned out 5000 strong—a good crowd for Monday. The ex-Nap Manager drew a great round of applause on his first trip to the plate. He didn't do the usual and strike out. But he drove out a short single and helped in the scoring of the first run. Stovall also got two other hits, giving him a total of three for the afternoon, while his field play was not only flawless but sensational in spots.

Clevelanders are strong for Harry Davis, Stovall's successor, but they would gladly welcome the return of the Browns' first sacker. "Lefty" George didn't make an impression in his opening out against the Tigers last Saturday. The thing that hurts Clevelanders most, however, is the fact that young Hohnhorst, who has been trying to fill in the gap made vacant by Stovall, doesn't nearly fill the bill.

Hohnhorst is a fair fielder but a weak batter and by some is accused of having not a great deal of the stuff that made J. Evers famous. Off the poor pitching of Pelty and Lake yesterday Hohnhorst got his first hits of the big league season. Davis has contented himself with being a bench manager to date. He hasn't even made his appearance as a coacher yet.

Cleveland fans feel certain that Hohnhorst won't do. Inquiries have been made regarding the extra first sackers on the Browns' staff. That and the fact that President Hedges of the Browns called here last Friday may mean that some sort of deal is on between the owners of the St. Louis and Cleveland teams.

While the Naps are credited with 14 hits off the two Brown pitchers, at least three of these were the result of lenient scoring.

Manager Wallace got into a game for the first time this season. It wasn't as a fielder, but as a pinch hitter. After the Browns had shown such a fondness for what Bill Steen, a former Portland right-hander, was offering, Manager Davis sent in Willie Mitchell, the left-hander. Wallace formerly liked to hit against the southpaws and swung for Lake in the ninth. He stung the ball hard, but it went out on a line to Butcher.

Next to Stovall, Bert Shotton carried off the hitting honors. The Ohio barber got three, all singles, one off Steen and the other pair off Mitchell. In the five games played, Bert had soaked out six hits for a .333 mark.

As a reward for their victories over the White Sox, Manager Wallace purchased new "dicers" for pitchers Brown and Baumgardner. He also treated the players to cigars.

THE OLD SONG.

Sing a song of pastry,
A pocket full of rye;
Twenty thousand ball fans
Baked in a pie.
When the pie was opened
They all began to sing:
"Why don't you take that pitcher out?
He hasn't got a thing!"

WILLIE TAFTO.

Willie Tafto's up a tree,
Slightly baggy at the knee—
Why doth Teddy harry thee?
Pretty Willie Tafto!

Willie Tafto, fat and fair,
Sits in presidential chair,
Wants to keep on sitting there.
Pretty Willie Tafto!

Willie Tafto, fair and fat,
Every time he comes to bat
Takes a kick at Teddy's hat.
Pretty Willie Tafto!

Willie Tafto, saucy scamp,
Will be taken with a cramp,
If he ever tackles Champ,
Pity Willie Tafto!

Signor Tyrano Ramondo Cobbannini, the famous star of the Detroit Grand Baseball Company, took his poodle dog, his valet and 40 trunks and left the Chicago Beach Hotel yesterday. Cobbannini said the noise from the railroad yards jarred on his artistic nerves to such an extent he could not sleep. In spite of the pleadings of Impresario Hugo Jennico, the star refused to appear and his place was taken by his understudy, Signor Vittski.

Post-Dispatch's Complete Daily Record of Markets and Finance

STOCKS CLOSE LOWER AFTER EARLY BUYING

Titanic Disaster Causes Some Severe Liquidation by Uncertain Holders.

CROP NEWS A FACTOR

Some Selling in Granger Shares Follows Rise in Wheat.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 16.—The Evening Post in its copyrighted financial review today, says:

"It would be no exaggeration to say that a potent factor in the depression on the Stock Exchange today was the gloom which pervaded the whole community on the news from the Titanic.

"This was not all because of financial losses involved. To the marine underwriters this is merely an incident of their business; to the international mercantile marine, it merely emphasizes the probability of a future reorganization of the company's share capital.

"But the fact of an appalling disaster coming home so closely to men in the active walks of finance, could not fail to cause depression of feelings and reluctance to engage in their recent speculative activities.

"The stock market, always sensitive to the mood of the community, acted as it is apt to do under such circumstances, and it was quite unnecessary to cite the canards as to other eminent men on the ill-fated vessel for explanation of the market's depression.

"Those reports were probably not of malicious origin, they merely illustrated the manner in which all minds were subject to the overshadowing influence of the day.

DETAILED REPORTS OF DAY'S WALL STREET TRANSACTIONS

NEW YORK, April 16.—The common shares of the International Mercantile Marine Co. were down a point at the opening of today's stock market, with a loss of 2½ points in the preferred and 2 points in the 4½ per cent bonds. The movement otherwise was decidedly irregular, with gains and losses evenly balanced. A decline of 2 points in American Can on sales of 1000 shares and 1¾ points in Canadian Pacific were especially noteworthy. Fractional losses were shown by United States Steel, Amalgamated and Utah Copper and Erie common and first preferred. Among the specialties was a 2-point advance in Sears-Roebuck. Strength was shown by Northern Pacific, Union Pacific, International Harvester and American Smelting.

There were few dealings in International mercantile marine issues during the first hour, with a further loss of a point in the bonds. The list in general became stronger with one point gains in New York Central, Northern Pacific and Amalgamated Copper. American Can common more than regained its loss, selling up to its high record attained on the previous day, with substantial recoveries in the preferred. Union Pacific, Reading and Great Northern preferred also added to opening gains. The market became dull and had sagged back to about the opening figures at 11 o'clock.

All early gains on the stock market were wiped out in the second hour today. Prices in many cases were under yesterday's close, with the setback ranging from 1 to 2 points, with a full 3 for American Can. Efforts made early in the day to advance the coppers, especially Amalgamated Copper, on rumors that the prospective dividend on that stock may be in excess of the 4 per cent rate were not effective. International Mercantile Marine issues shaded further and at noon the market was feverishly active.

Considerable downward progress was made with the bear faction becoming bolder as it became evident that the market was receiving little support apart from the buying by the shorts. Prices of the representative stocks melted away rapidly and there were severe losses also in some of the industrials that have been unduly active recently. Canadian Pacific sustained a loss of 3 points and Union Pacific, Reading and United States Steel about 2.

Additional losses were effective throughout the line in the latter part of the day. The persistent drop in the market leaders had a damaging effect on sentiment.

The market closed steady. Buying by the bears, who make it a rule to close out their contracts each day, gave the market an upward impulse, which was accentuated when the rise did not invite fresh selling. Recoveries of a point or more were common in the active shares and the list showed a better undercurrent of steadiness than had been looked for in view of the day's developments.

WET WEATHER IS A BULL FACTOR IN COTTON TRADE

NEW YORK, April 16.—The cotton market opened strong, at an advance of 19@25 points on reports of further heavy rains in the South, continued apprehensions as to the situation in the Mississippi Valley and firm late cables from Liverpool. Trading was extremely active at the start, and all the new crop positions made new high records for the season on urgent covering by recent sellers and fresh buying for long account. Later business became less active, and realizing was heavy enough to cause reactions of 3@4 points from the best, but there was a continued demand owing to the forecasts for further rains in the Eastern belt.

Offerings were readily absorbed at a setback of 5 or 6 points from the initial figures, and the market later in the forenoon was firm, with prices working up to about the best point again on continued covering or fresh buying for long account. Detailed weather reports showed rains ranging up over two inches in the New Orleans, Augusta and Montgomery districts. Spot quiet; middling uplands, 11.55c nominal.

Estimated receipts at the ports today, 21,000 bales, against 30,669 last week, and 9609 last year. For the week, 120,000, against 148,191 last week and 52,024 last year. Today's receipts at Galveston, 9429, against 4400 last year; at New Orleans, 1213, against 1400 last year, and at Houston, 3098, against 1588 last year.

The market was not particularly active during the early afternoon, and while prices eased off 4 or 5 points following the weekly weather report, which read rather more favorable than expected, the market ruled generally very steady, and toward 2 o'clock was within a point or two of the best on old-crop positions, with the general list ruling some 17 to 20 points net higher. The closing was steady.

Cotton—Spot closed steady, 15 points higher; middling uplands, 11.70c; middling gulf, 11.95c. Sales, 200 bales.

Local Rates Unchanged; Deposits Holding Up Well.

Under normal conditions the demand for funds usually increases at St. Louis banks during April and May falls short a bit. In July is revived with some alacrity around the semi-annual dividend and interest day and after Aug. 10 of each year attains a goodly degree of prominence in intercity transactions.

Just now the conditions are not such, however, as to indicate any very extensive gain in the demand for credits. In fact, the increase, which has been noted during the past week, has been confined more especially to those manufacturing and commercial lines which find it seasonable to increase their volume of purchases.

Rates have not greatly changed, although they are quoted 4 to 4½ per cent, with the average rate at the latter figure. The 4 per cent quotations apply to call funds only, but borrowers for 30 and 60 days pay 4½ and even 4¾ per cent without question. Deposits generally have been holding up very nicely.

Calamitous reports of winter killing gave wheat futures a bull trend again Tuesday, but the buying lacked snap and most of the professionals were on the selling side. All the so-called experts were in the fields and flooding the commission house wires with sensational reports.

One dispatch from B. W. Snow caused some buying. It said:

"Have gone over the largest wheat counties of Western and Southwestern Ohio and the count, field by field, shows more than 50 per cent of the acreage already abandoned and being seeded to oats. The balance does not promise above 40 per cent of a crop. On basis of what I have seen and reports received from the rest of state it looks like a crop for Ohio this year between 10,000,000 and 15,000,000 bushels at the most. There will be nearly a million acres of abandoned wheat land go into oats and corn, and as individual farms are small, there is both time and labor sufficient to get most of it into oats. Farmers buying oats for seed. It will be the smallest wheat era and biggest oats acerage this state ever had. Soil in splendid shape."

Outside of the "crop killing" stories there was not much of bullish import in the news. The Liverpool wheat market was under pressure of realizing at the opening, and prices were ¼d to ⅝d lower. The firm American cables were offset by weakness in Buenos Ayres and increasing pressure to sell nearby stuff. Following the opening prices lost an additional ⅜d to ¾d. There are larger Manitoba and Platte offers at a decline, and the European visible is bearish, being 90,124,000, showing an increase of 1,684,000 for the week. Last year the visible amounted to 112,100,000 bu. The market abroad was nervous and after the extreme decline there was some recovery as shorts covered.

Corn opened ½d lower and declined ½d more for the American grade, on the weakness in Buenos Ayres and the pressure to sell by Plate shippers.

Liverpool wheat futures closed ⅝d to ⅞d lower; corn 1d lower. Berlin wheat ⅛c up. Budapest ⅜c lower. Antwerp, unchanged and Paris ¼c to ½c lower.

Minneapolis wheat cars today totaled 94; last week 167; last year 104. Duluth had 57; last week 35; last year 18. Winnipeg had 433; last year 1844. Minneapolis wheat stocks decreased 35,000 bu for 3 days. Kansas City stocks decreased 43,000 bu in 1 day.

Local wheat receipts today were 16,800 bu or 12 cars local, 2 through; last year 39,872 bu, or 121 sacks, 34 cars local, 2 through. Corn receipts 66,590 bu or 236 sacks, 42 cars local, 13 through; last year, 40,810 bu, or 484 sacks, 27 cars local, 6 through. Oats receipts 57,800 bu or 20 cars local, 14 through; last year 59,500 bu, or 18 cars local, 17 through.

Corn again reflected selling pressure, owing to a poor cash trade and speculative offerings were heavy. The strength in wheat was the only thing that prevented a bad spill in the coarse grain. Oats were quiet and irregular.

Bradstreet's detailed report showed: Wheat—United States and east of Rockies decreased 2,411,000 bu; United States and west of the Rockies decreased 76,000 bu; Canada decrease 303,000 bu. United States and Canada decrease, 2,790,000 bu; Afloat and in Europe, increase 1,700,000 bu. Total decrease, 1,090,000 bu. Corn, decrease, 2,684,000 bu. Oats, decrease, 5000 bu.

The foreign crop summary said:

United Kingdom—Outlook for winter crops generally good; Spring seeding progressing rapidly.

France—Outlook good; supplies of native wheat very small.

Germany—Fears expressed regarding crops as result of recent frost. Good export demand for native wheat with supplies insufficient.

Hungary—Weather has been cold, which is unfavorable for the growing crops.

Roumania—Crop outlook favorable.

Russia—Outlook for winter crops favorable, although some complaints from Bessarabia and parts of Azoff. Supplies generally light; weather has been rather frosty.

Italy—Officials take a most favorable view of the crop outlook, but market is firm on small supplies.

Spain—Crop outlook rather more favorable. Weather fine.

North Africa—Crop outlook unfavorable to continue drouth.

Minneapolis wired: "Cash wheat market stronger; not much wheat here; No. 1 northern is 2c to 2½c over May. Don't get much on flour, but some mills buying cash wheat as if they had to have it."

Export clearances of wheat and flour today were 151,000 bu; of corn 23,000 bu; of oats, 19,000 bu.

Chicago cars estimated tomorrow: Wheat, 17; corn, 44; oats, 99.

Cash wheat held ½c to 1c higher; hard winter dull and nominally firm.

Cash corn weak and dull; outside demand for No. 2 white, which sold ½c higher; others 1c to 2c lower.

Cash oats ½c to 1c lower and rather dull.

APPREHENSION IN WHITE HOUSE OVER MEXICAN SITUATION

Major-General Wood Participates in Conference in the Cabinet Room.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Apprehension in official circles over the Mexican situation was indicated today by conferences at the White House, in which President Taft and the cabinet, Huntington Wilson, acting Secretary of State, and Major-General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army, participated.

Gen. Wood reached the White House soon after the cabinet assembled and held an earnest conversation with Secretary Stimson in an adjoining room. Wilson then was summoned from the State Department and the three officials went into the cabinet room.

Culican, the capital of Sinoloa, was captured by Mexican rebels, according to State Department advices today. Guerrero was today added to the list of states where the insurrecto movement is assuming greater proportions.

It is now denied from Salina Cruz, the western terminus of the Tehuantepec railroad, that this line is being molested.

FOOD FOR FLOOD ZONE

St. Louis Harbor Boat Distributing More Supplies.

The second consignment of food, clothing and general supplies, donated by business firms and individuals of St. Louis, is being distributed, Tuesday, among the flood sufferers along the Mississippi south of Cape Girardeau by the harbor boat Erastus Wells. The Wells departed at 5 p. m., Monday, with Mayor Kreismann in charge of the relief work.

Scores of wholesale and retail firms and hundreds of individuals made up the list of donors for the second expedition. Virtually every form of needed merchandise was sent. The Wells was due to stop at Cape Girardeau, Tuesday morning, to take on other supplies, at New Madrid later to give relief and at Caruthersville in the evening. Mrs. Kreismann, Comptroller Taussig, with his wife and their son, James, President Reber of the Board of Public Improvements, and Harbor and Wharf Commissioner Hellmich are aboard the harbor boat. The flood relief subscriptions sent to the Red Cross Society in St. Louis now amount to $3669.
